

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

GENERAL WORK OF THE BOARD

ORGANIZATION OF THE REPORT.

The following report is divided for convenience into three parts.

Part I. deals with the general work of the Board, its duties, both supervisory and administrative. This part is the main text of the report, and is published only with the full report.

Part II. is devoted entirely to the Board's duties with reference to private charitable enterprises. It is published as a separate pamphlet and serves as a handbook of the incorporated charities of the Commonwealth. It contains an introductory analysis of the year's investigations of petitions for the incorporation of charitable enterprises under Acts of 1910, chapter 181; also an account of the inspection of charitable corporations, under Acts of 1909, chapter 379. The main body of this part of the report is given up to abstracts of the annual returns made to the Board by private charitable corporations under the requirements of Revised Laws, chapter 84, section 14, as amended by Acts of 1913, chapter 82.

Part III. contains an introductory analysis of the year's inspections of almshouses, together with an abstract of conditions found at each institution. At the end of this part is a chapter on poor relief, which contains text and tabulated analysis of the returns of poor persons relieved, made by the respective cities and towns under the provisions of Revised Laws, chapter 81, section 40. Part III. is published as a separate pamphlet, and serves as a handbook for almshouse wardens and other local public relief officials.

As provided by statute, 2,000 copies of the full report are printed. There are issued in addition 1,000 copies of Part II. and 500 copies of Part III.

For convenience in publishing, the index to each part is to be found at the end of its own text instead of at the end of the book.

DUTIES OF THE BOARD.

The duties of the Board may be divided into two main groups, namely, supervisory and administrative. As a consequence of these obligations the Board is also required to report and publish the results of its work, with tabulated statements regarding the number of poor persons relieved in the Commonwealth at public expense, together with the cost thereof. Finally, it is empowered, in like manner with other boards and commissions, to recommend to the Legislature such changes in existing laws and the enactment of such new measures as it deems advisable.

In more specific form the supervisory duties comprise: —

The visitation and inspection of the State Infirmary at Tewksbury; the State Farm at Bridgewater; the Norfolk State Hospital for Inebriates at Norfolk; the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough; the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley; the State Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster; the Massachusetts Hospital School at Canton; the State Sanatoria at Rutland, North Reading, Lakeville, and Westfield; the city and town almshouses; the county training schools; the children in the custody of the Lyman and Industrial Schools cared for in families; the children supported by cities and towns and adults supported in families, other than their own, by cities and towns; such charitable corporations reporting to the Board as ask for, or consent to, such visitation and inspection; investigation, with public hearing, and report to the Secretary of the Commonwealth in all cases of applications for the incorporation of charitable organizations; supervision of the work of the cities and towns in the relief of mothers with dependent children under fourteen years of age; supervision of wayfarers' lodges and public lodging houses, as provided in chapter 606 of the Acts of 1914.

The administrative duties are as follows: —

(a) The discharge of sane inmates of the State Infirmary and the State Farm; the execution of laws relative to the release on parole of prisoners from the State Farm; the investigation as to legal settlement of persons, possibly State cases, who have been supported, relieved or buried by cities and towns, and of sane inmates of State institutions; the directing of aid of unsettled persons by cities and towns; the transfer of sane paupers from one institution to another; the sending of paupers to the places within and without the State where they belong; and the administration of the leper hospital at Penikese Island.

(b) The care and maintenance of delinquent, neglected and dependent children coming into the custody of the Board through court commitment or otherwise; the execution of the laws concerning abandoned infants and infant boarding houses; and the licensing of lying-in hospitals.

BY-LAWS OF THE BOARD.

1. The Board shall at its first regular meeting in June in each year elect by ballot a Chairman, a Vice-Chairman, and one member of the executive committee, who shall each hold office for one year, or until his successor shall have been chosen. Any vacancy in the office of Chairman, Vice-Chairman or Executive Committeeman, during the year for which he may be elected, shall be filled by ballot. In the absence or disability of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, a chairman pro-tempore may be chosen as the Board may determine.

2. Regular meetings of the Board shall be held on the first and third Fridays of each month, at the State House, at two o'clock in the afternoon, or at such other place and hour as the Board may from time to time direct. Special meetings may be called by the Chairman, or, in his absence, by the Vice-Chairman, at such time and place as may be most convenient for the members; and in notifying such meetings the Executive Director and Secretary shall specify the subjects to be considered. Four members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

3. The Standing Committees of the Board shall be: (1) a Committee on State Adult Poor, to consist of five members; (2) a Committee on State Minor Wards, to consist of five members; (3) a Committee on Supervision, to consist of five members; (4) a Committee on Legislation and Finance, to consist of three members: — all to be appointed by the Chairman; and (5) an Executive Committee, to be composed of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman and a third member to be elected in accordance with the provisions of the first by-law. The Chairman shall be, ex officio, an additional member of each of the Standing Committees. The duties of the Standing Committees other than the Executive Committee shall be supervisory and advisory.

They may appoint subcommittees of their own members for particular duties falling within their province. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to act for the Board in the intervals between meetings whenever immediate action is demanded. Such action shall be reported at the next regular meeting of the Board, and if no objection is made, shall be regarded as the will of the Board.

4. There shall be a chief executive officer of the Board to be known as the "Executive Director and Secretary," to be appointed by the Board. He shall be the chief administrative officer of the Board, its clerk, its secretary and auditor and its disbursing officer. Subject to its oversight and direction, he shall execute all the provisions of the laws touching the Board's duties, and shall carry out the policies and regulations established by the Board thereunder. In accordance with the provisions of the civil service, he shall nominate all employees of the department for appointment by the Board; and, in the absence of any rule or regulation of the Board, shall assign their duties. He shall study and report to the Board on methods of public aid in this country and abroad. He shall make monthly report to the Board of his audits and of other matters of concern to his office, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him.

5. There shall be two divisions in the Board, to wit, the Division of State Adult Poor and the Division of State Minor Wards.

The Division of State Adult Poor shall discharge all duties relating to the checking and verification of bills rendered by cities and towns, the verification of settlement of recipients of public aid, the admission and discharge of inmates of the State Infirmary and the release on parole of inmates of the State Farm, the administration of Penikese Hospital and such other administrative duties as the Board may assign. There shall be a superintendent of the Division of State Adult Poor, to be known as the Director of the said division, who shall be the executive officer thereof, and who shall, subject to the general supervision and oversight of the Executive Director and Secretary, execute all the functions of the Board relating to his division. He shall make reports to the Executive Director and Secretary monthly or oftener, as the Executive Director and Secretary may direct, and be responsible to the Executive Director and Secretary for the effectiveness of the work of his division.

The Division of State Minor Wards shall discharge all duties relating to the reception, care, treatment, custody, maintenance and discharge of State minor wards, and such other administrative duties as the Board may assign. There shall be a superintendent of the Division of State Minor Wards, to be known as the Director of the said division, who shall be the executive officer thereof, and who shall, subject to the general supervision and oversight of the Executive Director and Secretary, execute all the functions of the Board relating to his division. He shall make reports to the Executive Director and Secretary monthly or oftener, as the Executive Director and Secretary may direct, and shall be responsible to the Executive Director and Secretary for the effectiveness of the work of his division.

6. These by-laws may be suspended at any meeting duly called by a majority vote of the whole Board, and may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the full Board at any regular meeting, after previous notice of the change that is desired in the same by any member shall have been mailed to each member by the Executive Director and Secretary, three days, at least, before any vote shall be taken by the Board to make the proposed change.

STAFF ORGANIZATION FOR CARRYING OUT FUNCTIONS.

The staff service is arranged under the foregoing by-laws in a central corps for supervisory and secretarial functions, with two main divisions for administrative functions. In this manner supervision of State charitable institutions, the visitation and inspection of city and town almshouses and of public lodging houses, and the visitation of county training schools are carried out by the Executive Director through the central office. The supervision of relief to mothers with dependent children, because of the extensive administrative field work entailed, is executed through a supervisor and staff of visitors located in the Division of State Adult Poor. A staff of supervisors of private incorporated charities is directed from the central office, and is charged with the field visitation and inspection of all incorporated charities, and with the investigation of petitions for new incorporations of charities.

The work of almshouse inspection is materially aided by the Board's corps of volunteer almshouse visitors, whose duty is the preservation of a human touch and relationship with management and inmates of almshouses. The results of this phase of the Board's activities will be found in Part III. Matters relating to private incorporated charities are contained in Part II.

The strictly administrative duties of the Board are lodged in the two divisions, one dealing with adults, and known as the Division of State Adult Poor; the other exercising the care, custody and treatment of minors, and known as the Division of State Minor Wards.

The Division of Adult Poor examines settlements in verification of the claims of cities and towns for reimbursement from the State for aid given to sick and indigent persons who have no legal settlement. This branch has charge, also, of the admission and discharge of inmates of the State Infirmary, and the parole of prisoners from the State Farm.

The Division of Minor Wards has charge of the licensing and inspection of lying-in hospitals and of boarding houses for infants. With these exceptions its duties are confined to the reception, custody and care of minors coming to the Board voluntarily under the statutes or committed thereto by the courts.

The results of the year's work in both divisions are reported in Part I.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR LEGISLATION.

The following are the recommendations of the Board for legislative action, all of which have been forwarded to the Secretary of the Commonwealth as required by General Acts of 1915, chapter 269: —

1. ESTABLISHMENT OF A HOSPITAL FOR THE CARE AND TREATMENT OF SICK STATE MINOR WARDS.

The need of provision for hospital care for sick State minor wards long ago reached an acute stage. It is manifest in the annual requests of the trustees of the State Infirmary for buildings in which to house State wards, and in the recommendations of the State Board of Charity for a hospital for sick State children.

The recommendation for such a hospital, to be located at some place other than Tewksbury, has been made by the Board each year since 1913. The Board has constantly in its care hundreds of children, each of whom is for days, weeks or perhaps months in need of hospital treatment. Such children are for the time being incapable of placement in homes. They require treatment in some institution until their health is such that they may be sent out into the community. With a total of 6,446 children in the Board's care, this margin of cases requiring hospital treatment is constant, and may be expected to increase each year in exact proportion to the normal increase in the total number of wards.

The Board has no hospital in which to treat these children. Some, falling sick in their foster homes, are cared for by private hospitals at State expense. Most are sent to the State Infirmary, the only public institution to which the Board can send them. Here they are out of place and greatly hamper the infirmary in its more legitimate activities. Thus located, they are an ever-increasing danger to themselves. At the same time they lose the benefit of special care and treatment so frequently demanded by the miserable condition in which they are found by the authorities, and in which they remain at the time of commitment to the Board's custody. A bill accompanies this recommendation.

2. AMENDMENT OF CHAPTER 181 OF THE ACTS OF THE YEAR 1910, RENDERING THE APPROVAL OF THE STATE BOARD OF CHARITY REQUISITE TO THE INCORPORATION OF PRIVATE CHARITIES, AND PROVIDING THAT ALL CHANGES OF NAME OR OF PURPOSES SHALL BE INVESTIGATED IN LIKE MANNER WITH PETITIONS FOR INCORPORATION.

Under the existing statute the Board is required to investigate all petitions for the incorporation of private charities, to give public hearings and to report its findings to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The operation of this law, in connection with chapter 402 of the Acts of the year 1903, requiring annual reporting by all charities, and chapter 379 of the Acts of the year 1909, providing annual inspection of incorporated charitable agencies, is demonstrating beyond all question the wisdom of State supervision of incorporated charitable agencies. Though this policy is of recent date, the incorporated charities of the entire Commonwealth have come to look upon State supervision as a help in the development of right standards of relief. Bearing in mind the public trusteeship involved in every private charity, the Board believes that the time has come when its special knowledge in the field of private charities should be brought to bear upon all new petitions for the incorporation of charities by rendering its approval requisite to the issuance of a charter. The recommendation is repeated from former years. A bill is submitted.

LAWS AFFECTING THE BOARD, PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF 1918.

Legislation at the last session, touching the field of the Board's service, covers a wide range of topics. Chapter 63 fixes a penalty for unauthorized delivery of intoxicating liquor to inmates of public institutions. Chapter 100 authorizes the transfer of inmates of Sherborn Reformatory who are under seventeen years of age to the Industrial School for Girls. Chapter 130 relieves cities and towns from penalty and forfeiture of claim for reimbursement upon failure to report cases of dangerous diseases. Chapter 131 requires that dispensaries must be licensed by the State Department of Health. Chapter 139 authorizes the commitment of female inebriates to the Norfolk State Hospital. Chapters 163 and 187 relate to the establishment and regulation of tuberculosis hospitals by counties. Chapter 180 raises the amount of State reimbursement for the burial of unsettled dead from $15 for adults and $10 for minors to $30 and $15, respectively. Chapter 199 provides that moneys forfeited into court in bastardy cases may be applied to the support of the child.

In addition to these several acts, chapter 257, providing certain substantive changes in existing laws, contains sections which effect notable alterations in existing provisions relating to settlement and support of paupers and to juvenile delinquency. By operation of chapter 5 of the General Acts of 1919 the date on which these sections become effective is deferred to February 1, 1920. Following are the more important statutes listed above: —

GENERAL ACTS OF 1918.

CHAPTER 100.

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR THE TRANSFER OF CERTAIN INMATES FROM THE REFORMATORY FOR WOMEN TO THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

With the consent of the trustees of the Massachusetts training schools, the director of prisons may remove to the industrial school for girls any girl under the age of seventeen years who has been sentenced to the reformatory for women. Any person so transferred shall be accompanied by all mittimuses and processes in the case, by a copy of the medical report and by the facts covering the history and conduct of the person and the home circumstances of such person, so far as they can be ascertained. [Approved March 26, 1918.]

CHAPTER 130.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE REPORTING OF DANGEROUS DISEASES BY LOCAL BOARDS OF HEALTH TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH.

SECTION 1. The board of health of every city and town, or in towns not having such a board, the board of selectmen acting as a board of health, shall appoint some person, who may or may not be a member of the board, whose duty it shall be to give notice to the state department of health of diseases dangerous to the public health as provided by section fifty-two of chapter seventy-five of the Revised Laws, as amended by section one of chapter four hundred and eighty of the acts of nineteen hundred and seven and by chapter fifty-five of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, and in case of the absence or disability of such appointee the board shall appoint another person to perform said duty during such absence or disability. Such appointments and the acceptance thereof by the persons so appointed shall be placed upon the records of the board. Any person who accepts such an appointment and who wilfully refuses or wilfully neglects or through gross negligence fails to make and send the notices required by said section fifty-two, as amended as aforesaid, in accordance with its terms, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

SECTION 2. A claim of a city or town against the commonwealth for reasonable expenses incurred by the board of health of such city or town, or by the board of selectmen acting as such, in making the provision required by law for persons infected with a disease dangerous to the public health shall not be defeated by reason of the failure on the part of its board of health, or by the board of selectmen acting as such, to give notice of such disease to the state department of health in accordance with the provisions of said section fifty-two as amended as aforesaid, if such claim is otherwise a valid claim against the commonwealth. [Approved April 2, 1918.]

CHAPTER 139.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE COMMITMENT AND TRANSFER OF DIPSOMANIACS AND OTHERS.

SECTION 1. Chapter five hundred and four of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, as amended in section fifty by chapter five hundred and fifty-eight of the acts of nineteen hundred and fourteen, by chapter seventy-three of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and fifteen and by chapter sixty-nine of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby further amended by striking out said section fifty and substituting the following: — Section 50. Any of the judges named in section twenty-nine, and the municipal court of the city of Boston, may commit to the Norfolk state hospital, to the McLean hospital, or to a private licensed hospital or house, any male or female person, who is subject to dipsomania or inebriety either in public or private, or who is so addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants as to have lost the power of self control. The magistrate who receives the application for such commitment shall examine on oath the applicant and all other witnesses, shall reduce the application to writing and cause it to be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant. He shall cause a summons and copy of the application to be served upon such person in the manner provided by section twenty-five of chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws. Such person shall be entitled to a hearing, unless after receiving said summons he shall in writing waive a hearing; and in that case the magistrate may issue an order for his immediate commitment as aforesaid, without a hearing, if he is of the opinion that the person is a proper subject for custody and treatment in the hospital or other place to which he is committed. The commitment may be made forthwith, if the examining physician certifies the case to be one of emergency. A person committed as aforesaid may be detained for two years after the date of his commitment, and no longer.

SECTION 2. Upon the passage of this act the commission on mental diseases shall transfer to the Norfolk state hospital and to the custody of the superintendent thereof, under the provisions of section sixty-nine of said chapter five hundred and four, as amended by section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and eleven and by chapter one hundred and thirty-one of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen, all female persons who are inmates of state hospitals for the insane and were committed thereto under the provisions of section fifty of said chapter five hundred and four, amended as aforesaid.

SECTION 3. Said chapter five hundred and four is hereby amended by striking out section fifty-four and substituting the following: — Section 54. Any person who is a dipsomaniac or inebriate or addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants, who is desirous of submitting himself for treatment in the Norfolk state hospital, or in any hospital or receptacle licensed under the provisions of chapter two hundred and eighty-five of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, as amended by chapter two hundred and thirty-two of the General Acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen, and makes written application therefor, may be received by the trustees, superintendent or manager of such hospital or receptacle and detained therein as a boarder and patient. No such person shall be detained more than three days after having given notice in writing of his intention or desire to leave the institution. The charges for the support of such a person in said state hospital shall be governed by the provisions of law applicable to the support of an insane person in a state hospital, provided that the approval of the state board of charity shall be obtained in writing.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect upon its passage.
[Approved April 12, 1918.]

They shall also decently bury all deceased persons who, although without means of support while living, did not apply for public relief, and all unknown persons found dead. The expense thereof may be recovered of their kindred, if any, chargeable by law for their support in the manner hereinbefore provided; and if the expense of their burial is not paid by such kindred, an amount not exceeding thirty dollars for the funeral expenses of each pauper over twelve years of age, and not exceeding fifteen dollars for the funeral expenses of each pauper under that age shall be paid by the commonwealth: provided, however, that the overseers of the poor file with each claim an affidavit of the undertaker stating the amount received from the city or town, and further stating that he has not received and will not accept money for such funeral expenses from any other source. [Approved April 26, 1918.]

SECTION 304. Section thirteen of said chapter eighty-six is hereby repealed.

SECTION 305. Sections thirty-seven to forty-three, inclusive, of said chapter eighty-six are hereby repealed.

SECTION 453. Section five of chapter four hundred and fifty-six of the acts of nineteen hundred and eleven is hereby amended by striking out the words "as amended by section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and five", in the sixth, seventh and eighth lines, and substituting the words "and acts in amendment thereof", and by striking out the words "at the time when the sentence was imposed" in the eighteenth and nineteenth lines, and by striking out the words "upon his or her entering" in the twenty-fifth line and substituting the words "requiring in its discretion the defendant to enter", — so as to read as follows: — Section 5. Before the trial, with the consent of the defendant, or at the trial, on entry of a plea of guilty, or after conviction, if the defendant is placed on probation or if his sentence is suspended and he is placed on probation under the provisions of section one of chapter two hundred and twenty of the Revised Laws, and acts in amendment thereof, the court in its discretion, having regard to the circumstances and to the financial ability or earning capacity of the defendant, shall have power to make an order, which shall be subject to change by the court from time to time as circumstances may require, directing the defendant to pay a certain sum periodically, for a term not exceeding two years, to the probation officer, who shall pay over the same to the wife or to the guardian or custodian of the said minor child or children, or to the city, town, corporation or society supporting the wife or minor child or children, or to the treasurer of the commonwealth for the use of the state board of charity when the complaint is for neglect to provide for the support of the minor child or minor children who have been committed to the custody of said board; and the court shall also have power to release the defendant from custody on probation for the period so fixed, requiring in its discretion the defendant to enter into a recognizance, with or without surety, in such sum as the court or a judge thereof in vacation may order and approve. The condition of the recognizance shall be that if the defendant shall make his or her personal appearance in court, whenever ordered to do so, and shall comply with the terms of the order of support, or of any subsequent modification thereof, then the recognizance shall be void, but otherwise it shall be of full force and effect. Suit may be brought upon said recognizance by any person authorized by the court, and the proceeds of the suit shall be applied to the support of the wife or of the minor child or children as the court shall direct.

SECTION 454. Section six of said chapter four hundred and fifty-six, as amended by section one of chapter five hundred and twenty of the acts of nineteen hundred and fourteen, is hereby further amended by striking out the words "at the time when the sentence was imposed" in the fifteenth and sixteenth lines, — so as to read as follows: — Section 6. If the court be satisfied by information and due proof under oath that at any time during said period of probation the defendant has violated the terms of the order, it may forthwith proceed with the trial of the defendant under the original charge, or sentence him or her under the original conviction, or enforce the suspended sentence, as the case may be. In case the defendant is admitted to bail pending the trial of the cause and the bail shall be forfeited, the money or sum recovered, and in case of the forfeiture of the recognizance and enforcement thereof by execution the sum recovered may, in the discretion of the court, be paid in whole or in part to the probation officer, who shall pay over the same to the wife, or to the guardian or custodian of said minor child or children, or to the city, town, corporation or society supporting the wife or minor child, or to the treasurer of the commonwealth for the use of the state board of charity when the complaint is for neglect to provide for the support of a minor child or of minor children who have been committed to the custody of said board.

SECTION 455. Chapter one hundred and sixty-three of the general acts of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "not" in the third line the words "of itself", and by adding at the end of said chapter the words ", or that such father has ceased to have custody of his children on his own acquiescence or by judicial action", — so as to read as follows: — In any criminal prosecution or proceeding against a father for failure to support his minor children brought in any court whatsoever, it shall not of itself be a defence that a divorce has been decreed between the defendant and his wife and that the custody of the children has been granted to her, or that such father has ceased to have custody of his children on his own acquiescence or by judicial action. [Chapter 257 effective February 1, 1920.]

THE STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The State institutions under the supervision of the Board are: the State Infirmary at Tewksbury; the State Farm at Bridgewater; the Norfolk State Hospital; the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough; the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley; the State Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster; the Massachusetts Hospital School at Canton; the North Reading State Sanatorium; the Rutland State Sanatorium; the Lakeville State Sanatorium; and the Westfield State Sanatorium.

The supervisory powers of the Board over these institutions extend to the right of investigation and recommendation as to any matters relating to the institutions, but the administration of each is vested in separate Boards of Trustees.

The State Infirmary and the State Farm are controlled by one Board of Trustees. Its membership is as follows: Leonard Huntress, M.D., Lowell, Chairman; Mrs. Mary E. Cogan, Stoneham; Galen L. Stone, Brookline; Nellie E. Talbot, Brookline, Secretary; Francis W. Anthony, M.D., Haverhill; Dennis D. Sullivan, Middleborough; Walter F. Dearborn, Cambridge.

The Norfolk State Hospital for the care and treatment of inebriates is administered by the following Board of Trustees: Robert A. Woods, Boston, Chairman; Albert E. Bradley, Boston; Philip R. Allen, Walpole; Frank L. Locke, Malden, Secretary; Edwin Mulready, Rockland; Otho L. Schofield, M.D., Wellesley; Lombard Williams, Dedham.

The Trustees of Massachusetts Hospitals for Consumptives administer the four sanatoria, but have no powers over the tuberculosis wards of the State Infirmary. The Board is constituted as follows: Arthur K. Stone, M.D., Boston, Chairman; William C. Godfrey, Springfield; Charles J. Downey, M.D., Springfield; Sylvia B. Knowlton, Newton; Daniel L. Prendergast, Brookline; Simon Swig, Taunton; George A. Dunn, Gardner; John B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., Secretary, State House, Boston.

The three training or industrial schools fall under the control of the Trustees of the Massachusetts Training Schools. The Board is as follows: Carl Dreyfus, Boston, Chairman; James J. Sheehan, Peabody; Mary Josephine Bleakie, Brookline; Matthew Luce, Cohasset; John F. Scully, Brockton; Amy Ethel Taylor, Lexington; Charles M. Davenport, Boston; James W. McDonald, Marlborough; Lewis M. Palmer, Framingham; F. Leslie Hayford, Secretary, State House, Boston.

The Massachusetts Hospital School is administered by the following Board of Trustees: Edward H. Bradford, M.D.,

Boston, Chairman; Leonard W. Ross, Mattapan, Secretary; Walter C. Baylies, Taunton; William F. Fitzgerald, Brookline; Alfred S. Pinkerton, Worcester.

In addition to the eleven State institutions which the Board supervises is Penikese Hospital, the Massachusetts hospital for the care and treatment of persons afflicted with leprosy. This institution is administered directly by the State Board of Charity. For the sake of uniformity and comparison all twelve institutions are grouped together in this report.

NUMBERS.

The total number of cases under care in these State charitable institutions during the year was 16,351, a number less by 3,790 than the corresponding total for 1917. Of the total number, 12,110 were males and 4,241 were females. Nine thousand nine hundred fifty-seven were under care for hospital treatment; 2,697 were juvenile delinquents; 2,681 were adult offenders, mostly chronic drunkards; and 1,016 were indigent persons, having no legal settlement and not included in the above classifications. Of the hospital cases, 3,277 were suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis; 1,726 were insane, including 915 at the State Farm who were criminally insane. For movement of population see Table II. following.

CAPACITY.

The depletion of institution population through the abnormal war demand for laborers has been the marked feature of institution census this year. In 1917 the average daily population of the State Infirmary, where partially or totally disabled dependents are cared for, fell 79 below normal. In 1918 it dropped 247. The Farm, a custodial farm colony for drunkards and vagrants, fell off 707 in 1917, and in 1918 lost 1,370. Norfolk State Hospital, for the care and treatment of inebriates less confirmed than those at the Farm, dropped 231 below in 1917, and 309 in 1918. These three institutions make up the group among the charitable institutions that would naturally profit by more favorable industrial conditions outside. The unsteady worker or the person who is partially incapacitated fails of self-support to a less degree in such abnormal times.

The hospitals held an even course, while the training schools for juvenile delinquents have shown greater overcrowding than at any previous time. Lyman School, with a normal capacity of 413 beds, has housed a daily average population of 500 boys throughout the year. The average daily census at the Industrial School for Boys exceeded the normal by 12; and the Industrial School for Girls overran its normal by 42. Nor do these figures reveal the full extent of the pressure of these schools to house the greatly increased number of juvenile delinquents. Lyman School at one time during the year had 535 boys in residence. The largest daily census at the Industrial School for Boys was 268. At the Industrial School for Girls it was 365. The smallest number present at Lyman at any one time in the year was still 51 above the normal capacity. At Shirley it equaled but never fell below normal, while at Lancaster it never fell below an excess of 28.

The accompanying table shows the fluctuations of average daily attendance above and below normal capacity for each institution, together with the largest and smallest daily totals set out for comparison.

COST OF MAINTENANCE.

The combined appropriations for the maintenance of the State charitable institutions in 1918 were $2,621,772.45.¹ The total expenditures on the same account were $2,510,102.26. Of the sum expended, $790,784.01 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $1,719,318.25. For the coming year the respective Boards of Trustees submit estimates for maintenance appropriations, as shown in Table I. To the tabulation is added for better comparison the Board's own estimate for Penikese Hospital. Estimates for special purposes will be considered later in this report under each of the institutions separately.

COMPARATIVE VIEW OF MOVEMENT OF POPULATION AND OF EXPENDITURES.

The movement of population in the twelve institutions is shown in brief but comparative form in Table II. Inmates are classified by sex, while the daily average attendance appears in a column adjoining the average number of officers and employees. The average number of persons employed, shown in this table, is obtained from an exact analysis of the pay rolls, reducing all employment to a basis of days. Table III. affords a comparative view of expenditures at all the institutions, classified as "current" and "extraordinary." Tables II. and III. are drawn in accordance with the statistical form adopted by the National Conference of Social Work, May 15, 1906.

Number of maternity cases, 140.

Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $1,922,188.13. Normal capacity of plant, 2,351. Value per unit of capacity, $817.60. Provides almshouse and hospital care for indigent persons not chargeable for support to any city or town. During the year 5,598 persons have been under care, 605 less than in 1917, and 770 less than in 1916. The largest daily census was 2,478, the smallest, 1,857, the daily average being 2,104. For the preceding year the corresponding figures were 2,629 and 1,857, with a daily average of 2,272.

Five thousand three hundred forty-one cases, of which 3,632 were males and 1,709 females, were treated in the general hospital wards, — 4,190 medical and 1,151 surgical. In this number were 821 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, 14 of diphtheria, 21 of typhoid fever, 9 of whooping cough, 42 of chicken pox, 78 of measles, 6 of scarlet fever, 11 of erysipelas, 1 of glanders, 1 of infantile paralysis, 1 of cerebrospinal meningitis, 2 of smallpox and 317 of influenza. Of the 662 deaths, 602 in general hospital department and 60 in department for the insane, 228 were from tuberculosis. Of the 821 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis in the consumptive ward, 692 cases were males, 129 females. Classification on admission was as follows: incipient cases, 28; moderately advanced, 97; far advanced, 264. The conditions of patients on discharge were as follows: 5, disease arrested; 4, apparently arrested; 2, apparently cured; 10, quiescent; 239, relieved; 228, died; 129, not relieved.

One hundred thirty-seven surgical operations were performed.

Of the 147 births at this institution during the year, 73 were males and 74 were females. Of this number there were 140 living births, namely, 69 males and 71 females. Among the mothers of these children 91 were born in the United States, 8 in Ireland, 5 in England, 18 in British Provinces, 25 in other countries. For an account of this Board's work with mother and baby cases at this institution, see page 119.

The serious crowding of recent years was relieved in 1918 by the remarkably small census resulting from the great industrial demands for labor. Problems of segregation of communicable diseases, of classification of age group, and of separate care for mental defectives were less acute than formerly.

This encouraging condition was greatly offset, however, by the alarming shortage of help. Of a regular medical staff of 16, 10 went to Federal service. The training school for nurses was much smaller than in normal times, with the result that the nursing staff was no better able to cover its field than were the doctors. It is also to be noted that though there were 414 fewer patients admitted to the Infirmary last year than in 1917, the daily average attendance was only 168 less. The discrepancy is explained by the fact that though abnormal industrial conditions reduce the population of almshouses, the persons who are thus saved from entering are the best cases physically, — those most able to work toward their self-support. Conversely, those who find themselves in the Infirmary in such times are more nearly than ever the chronic, helpless, terminal cases. As these more difficult cases stand in greater need of medical and nursing care, they constitute an infirmary problem out of proportion to their numbers.

The unsettled labor problem has been met in part by the establishment of a small prison camp for 16 prisoners, who have been of great assistance on the farm. But even with this help the activities of the institution have been confined almost wholly to maintenance and necessary repairs. Few improvements have been undertaken, and some repair work, though advisable, has had to go over for lack of help to execute it. No progress has been made toward an elimination of the large numbers of mentally defective children now housed at the Infirmary. These children do not belong here. They are out of place in an almshouse infirmary. They need wholesome outdoor life similar to that accorded the more fortunate members of their class at Waverley and at the Wrentham School. The State Board of Charity has sought for several years a special hospital for the care of State wards who fall sick, thus relieving the State Infirmary and protecting the children from the inordinately long periods of residence there because of exposure to diseases due to lack of facilities for isolation, but no grant has thus far been made by the Legislature.

With an appropriation of $690,265.07, a total of $675,242.20 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $179,149.55 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $496,092.65. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $6.105. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $43,406.91. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $631,835.29. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 6.5. For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60–80. The trustees estimate that $861,804 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23,24.)

The trustees ask the following special appropriations: —

1. Domestic and storage building	$120,000 00
2. Coal handling and equipment	28,000 00
3. Portable prison camp for 50 men	5,000 00

Provides custodial care for persons of both sexes committed by the courts for drunkenness or vagrancy; almshouse care for indigent persons not chargeable to any city or town; and hospital care for insane male convicts. Persons committed for drunkenness are in almost all cases chronic drunkards.

During the year 4,355 cases have been cared for, — 2,808 less than last year, and 3,868 less than in 1916. Largest daily census, 2,313; smallest, 1,587; daily average, 1,843. Of the whole number under care, 2,681 were prisoners, 759 were paupers and 915 were insane convicts. The total number of admissions and commitments was 2,037, of which 1,675 were commitments; 1,355 of these commitments, or 80.9 per cent, were for drunkenness. Of these 1,675 prisoners committed, 468, or 28 per cent, were returned for violation of parole; 1,221, or 72.9 per cent, of all these new commitments had served time at the State Farm before. Of all commitments, 30.3 per cent were made from Boston. A comparative classification of all commitments, showing data for nine years, follows: —

The total number of cases leaving the institution during the year, whether by death, discharge or release on parole, was 2,692. The deaths numbered 214.

There is a marked decrease in the figures for 1918 as compared with previous years. The total number of persons under care during the year in this institution is 2,808 less than the number cared for in 1917, and the number of commitments for drunkenness decreased 2,033. The whole prison department shows a decrease for the year of 2,145, and the number of dependents admitted to the almshouse department has decreased 356.

Commitments for vagrancy and tramping have dropped from 296 in 1916 to 271 in 1917 and 196 last year, a decline of 58 per cent since the industrial speeding up of the war began to be felt.

The greatest asset of a farm colony is its man power. The State Farm is a vast monument to the industry of thousands of men who are able-bodied, when not drinking, and who under custodial discipline are able to contribute the greater part if not the whole of the expense for their support. In past years the Farm has by the labor of its prisoners maintained an extensive department for the criminal insane and an almshouse containing no able-bodied persons, and this at a per capita cost of not more than half the figure for those institutions not possessed of such labor. But in 1917 to a large degree, and in 1918 with doubled force, has come a depletion of the farm population. Under the impelling force of war industries the body of rough labor usually held at the Farm has been divided virtually into four parts, three of which have gone out into the shipyards and factories to be watched over and persuaded and kept straight in a manner unknown to the conditions of employment in normal times.

The one-fourth that remained has been able to handle only the most necessary of the institution processes. While, therefore, it has been good fortune for the public that so few have had to be taken in custody, it has meant a difficult problem for the institution to adjust so large a plant to such an unusually small fraction of its capacity and to so meager a supply of labor.

The parole visitors of prisoners released from the State Farm, 1918-19, are: Albert Arnold, Boston; Cornelius Buckley, Natick; Rev. Eugene Carney, Roxbury; Peter Carr, Lawrence; Rev. Clark Carter, Lawrence; Chester L. Clark, Milford; Edward G. Clark, Westfield; William F. Dineen, North Adams; Miss Katherine L. Edwards, Worcester; Rev. Timothy J. Fahey, Roxbury; Frank E. Flaherty, Somerville; William Forsberg, Worcester; Rev. Thomas Gilhooly, Roxbury; Edward A. Hall, Springfield; George L. Harris, Northampton; Archibald M. Hillman, Worcester; Rev. Oscar Lindegren, East Boston; Joseph P. Love, Webster; John E. Lynch, Boston; Peter J. Lynch, Melrose; Oswald J. McCourt, West Newton; Thomas J. McEneaney, Lawrence; John J. McGaffigan, Boston; John J. McGrath, Amesbury; John F. Mitchell, Marlborough; Rev. Frank V. Murphy, Roxbury; William H. O'Neil, Salem; Paul Perkins, Brookline; Moses J. Perrault, Fitchburg; Michael Sweeney, Fall River; John W. Trehy, Chicopee; Rev. John B. Whiteman, Greenfield; John A. Winn, Charlestown; Capt. James A. Wright, Beverly.

Out of an appropriation of $508,567.55, a total of $447,447.59 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended $117,790.13 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $329,657.46. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $4.54. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $30,317.64. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $417,129.95. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 11.2. The trustees estimate that $484,981 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23,24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

No special appropriations were requested for 1919.

Norfolk State Hospital.

IRWIN H. NEFF, M.D., Superintendent.

Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $482,847.41. Normal capacity of plant, 400. Value per unit of capacity, $1,207.11.

Provides care and treatment for inebriates and users of drugs in cases not deemed incurable; also detention colony for non-criminal chronics.

This institution was opened for the admission of patients June 1, 1914, at which time all the inebriate patients at the Foxborough State Hospital were transferred to the Norfolk State Hospital.

During the year 885 cases have been cared for. Of the whole number, 95 were in residence at the beginning of the year. The remaining 790 cases were admitted during the year, while 854 were discharged, leaving 31 at the close of the year. There were 7 deaths. The total number of admissions include 790 who were returned from visits or leave of absence, and 854 nominally for discharge, the actual admissions being 790.

The daily average number of inmates was 90.6; largest daily census, 138; smallest, 18.

The total number of cases under treatment shows a decrease of 676 from the total of the preceding year.

The depletion of numbers at the State Farm was due to industry's demand for labor, even semi able-bodied labor. Obviously, the better the condition of the patient, the younger he is in his career of self-poisoning, the more likely he is to be drawn from the institution and placed at work. Norfolk State Hospital houses just such a pre-chronic group. As may be expected, therefore, its beds were practically emptied by the labor demands of 1918. By September there were but 48 patients in the entire institution.

At this juncture the United States military authorities began to receive returned soldiers with nervous and mental breakdown. There arose an acute need for hospital facilities somewhere in New England for the reception and care of these cases. As the hospital at Norfolk was equipped for the care and treatment of just such cases, the result was a transfer of the State plant to Federal use, under a form of lease operative October 1, 1918, to continue during the period of the war and a reasonable period beyond, but terminable upon proper notice from either party.

A factor which may be expected to affect the development of the Norfolk institution upon its return to State use is the likelihood of a great reduction in alcoholic inebriety, due to universal prohibition. As the primary purpose is the treatment of neurosis in the earlier stages, it is, however, not to be hoped that scarcity of alcohol will eliminate the inebriate and the drug addict. This group will continue as a physical manifestation of mental and nervous abnormality, and must be cared for in such fashion as will protect the public from their depredation and salvage out of them all that can be saved and made self-supporting. Thus the primary need of this hospital will be certain to remain.

Out of an appropriation of $133,209.60, a total of $114,089.25 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended $48,791.18 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $65,298.07. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $23,469.

Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $4,043.58. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $110,045.67. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 1.2. The trustees estimate that $62,150 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23,24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

The trustees request no special appropriations for the coming year.

THE STATE TRAINING SCHOOLS.

The Lyman School for Boys at Westborough, the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley, and the Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster are the three industrial schools provided by the State for juvenile delinquents. They are administered by a single Board of Trustees known as the Trustees of the Massachusetts Training Schools, with offices at the State House, Boston.

Boys under fifteen years of age may be committed to the Lyman School, and under eighteen years of age to the school at Shirley. Girls under seventeen go to the institution at Lancaster. All persons committed remain under the control of the trustees during minority. For greater efficiency in administration, the Lyman School cares for boys under fifteen, while those over that age go to Shirley.

The total number of persons under care in these three institutions during the year was 2,697. Of these, 1,495 were boys under fifteen, all at Lyman School, 649 were boys fifteen and over, at Shirley, and 553 were girls under seventeen, cared for at Lancaster.

In the three schools there were, at the beginning of the year, 1,066 inmates, namely, 738 boys and 328 girls. One thousand six hundred thirty-one were received during the year, and 1,553 went out either by discharge or upon parole, viz., 1,355 boys and 198 girls, leaving 1,144 on November 30, 1918.

The combined appropriations for the maintenance of the three schools totaled $419,136.48. On this account, $417,592.88 was expended. Subtracting all receipts from sources other than the State treasury, the net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth was $416,584.71. Details of administration and cost are considered under each school separately, as follows: —

LYMAN SCHOOL FOR BOYS, WESTBOROUGH.

CHARLES A. KEELER, Superintendent.

Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $565,845.73. Normal capacity, 413. Value per unit of capacity, $1,370.08.

Provides custodial care and industrial training for delinquent boys under fifteen years of age. Cottage plan.

During the year 1,495 cases have been under care, representing 919 separate individuals. This total number of cases is 163 more than in 1917, and 374 more than in 1916. The number in the school at the beginning of the year was 494; admissions numbered 1,001; discharges, 962; remainder at the close of the year, 533. The daily average number of inmates was 500.7, — 33.02 more than in 1917. At one time during the year there were 535 boys in residence.

The list of causes of admission in the 1,001 cases received during the year was as follows: assault, 8; breaking and entering, 101; carrying firearms, malicious injury to real estate, 2; cruelty to horse, 1; delinquent child, 65; larceny, 173; forgery, 2; returned or transferred from other institutions, not penal, 26; returned from funerals, 6; returned from visits to sick relatives, 5; returned on account of illness, 2; returned from place of parole or board, 361; running away, 3; transferred by the State Board of Charity, 25; stubbornness, 32; setting fires, 2; trespassing, 2; violating regulations, Middlesex County Training School, 3; runaways recaptured, 182. Four hundred nineteen of the foregoing cases were committed by the courts. Of this number, 330 had been arrested before and 80 had been inmates of other institutions. Twelve per cent were of American parentage, 58 per cent were of foreign parentage, and 8 per cent were unknown. Fifty-three of these boys were foreign born, while 363 were born in the United States.

Overcrowding like that now existing at this school is bound to have its effect, not merely in higher risk and lower efficiency in the operation of the institution itself, but in the results accomplished with the boys on parole. This year the average period of stay at Lyman was reduced from fourteen months, which it had been in former years, to twelve months. This in the main has meant greener and more rapid placements, with a corresponding jump in the number who do not make good. Last year, of 891 cases received into the school, 279 were returned from place or parole. This year, out of 1,001 cases received, 361 were returned from place or parole. The 31 per cent of 1917 became 37 per cent in 1918.

The consensus of opinion among juvenile training school authorities sets a capacity of 500 beds as the right maximum of effectiveness in the development of such an institution as the Lyman School. An average daily population of 500 has now been reached, though some further construction is necessary to provide permanent housing for that many inmates.

This Board, in making a special report to the Legislature of last year upon the care and treatment of juvenile delinquents, called attention to the fact that Lyman School has reached its maximum size for most effective service, and pointed out the need of further expansion in a new plant. This situation is emphasized again in this report. Lyman School should not be allowed to become an unwieldy congregate establishment for boys. If it is to be kept as an effective central step between probation on the one hand and parole on the other, its maximum capacity should be kept down to 500 beds.

With an appropriation of $182,240, a total of $182,225.53 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $57,790.54 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $124,434.99. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $6.964. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $495.86. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $181,729.67. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 4.3. The trustees estimate that $220,527 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23,24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

The total expended out of appropriations for special purposes was $8,703.64.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS, SHIRLEY.

GEORGE P. CAMPBELL, Superintendent.

Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $420,574.42. Normal capacity of plant, 240. Value per unit of capacity, $1,752.40.

Provides custodial care and industrial training for boys over fifteen and under twenty-one years of age. Only boys under eighteen may be admitted.

During the year 649 cases have been cared for, representing 585 separate individuals. This total number of cases is 92 more than in the preceding year. The number in the school at the beginning of the year was 244. Admissions numbered 405; discharges, 393; remainder at the close of the year, 256. The largest daily census was 268; the smallest, 240; daily average, 252.3.

The list of causes of admission in the 405 cases received during the year was as follows: assault, 3; assault and battery, 5; assault with intent to rob, 3; breaking and entering, 13; breaking and entering and larceny, 57; carrying weapon, 2; delinquent child, 17; disturbing the peace, 2; fornication and similar offences, 3; idle and disorderly, 3; larceny, 113; larceny of auto, 7; returned after leave of absence, 11; robbery, 5; running away, 9; stubborn child, 41; returned from parole, 86; returned from institutions, not penal, 5; unlawful appropriation, 5; vagrancy, 8; breaking glass, defacing building, malicious injury to personal property, train riding, forgery, endangering safety of persons riding upon trains, stealing, 7.

Two hundred eighty-nine of the foregoing cases were committed by the courts and 14 were transferred from Lyman School. Of the boys thus committed 123 had been arrested before, and 48 had been inmates of other institutions. Forty-nine, or 16.1 per cent, were foreign born; 253, or 83.5 per cent, were born in the United States, and 1 unknown. The average population of 252.3 exceeds the average of the preceding year by 5.9.

This school provides a constant supply of vigorous labor of varying competence. The tract of 900 acres contains a large area of good farming land, on which an abundance of outdoor exercise is secured. This year the farm supplied 61 per cent of all the food consumed.

The most noteworthy fact in the movement of population this year has been the increased number of returns from parole. This has been a year of abnormal industry and much shifting in employment; but it has also been a period of excessive demand for labor, and it would be supposed, therefore, that a boy on parole from the school could hold a job now if ever. It is probable that the unrest of war has set in hard upon the plastic mentality of these young men, and has emphasized in them those same tendencies which brought them into the hands of the law in the first place. A suspicious circumstance pointing in this same direction is the jump of 12 per cent in the number of commitments.

Out of an appropriation of $109,434.23, a total of $107,915.66 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $39,236.82 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $68,678.84. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $8.182. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $374.58. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $107,541.08. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 4.3. The trustees estimate that $127,372 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23,24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

For the coming year the trustees submit the following estimate, with a request for special appropriations covering the same: —

1. Completion of the construction and furnishing of a new cottage for 30 boys and attendants $30,000

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS, LANCASTER.

AMY F. EVERALL, Superintendent.

Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $459,911.28. Normal capacity of plant, 299. Value per unit of capacity, $1,538.16.

Founded in 1854 as a private institution. Taken over by the State in 1856.

Provides custodial care and industrial training for delinquent girls under twenty-one years of age.

During the year 553 girls have been under care. This total is 11 less than in 1917, and 34 more than in 1916. The number in the school at the beginning of the year was 328; admissions during the year, 227; discharged, including all persons going out of the school, 200; remaining November 30, 1918, 355. The largest daily census was 365; smallest, 327; daily average, 341.37.

The list of causes of admission in the 227 cases received at the school during the year was as follows: accosting, 1; adultery, 1; committing an unnatural act, 1; common nightwalker, 4; delinquent, 6; delinquency, 2; forgery, 2; fornication, 12;

habitual association with lewd and lascivious persons, 1; idle and disorderly, 7; idle, vagrant and vicious person, 2; larceny, 18; leading idle and vicious life, 1; leading, idle, vagrant and vicious life, 4; lewdness, 2; lewd and lascivious, 3; lewd person, 2; lewd and lascivious cohabitation, 3; lewd and lascivious person in speech and behavior, 1; lewd, wanton and lascivious, 7; lewd, wanton and lascivious in speech and behavior, 2; lewd and wanton in speech and behavior, 1; nightwalking, 2; receiving stolen property, 2; runaway, 7; street walking, 1; stubborn child, 40; stubbornness, 30; stubborn and disobedient child, 2; vagrant, 2.

Recalled to the school, 58, — for a visit to the school, 13; on account of illness, 5; from hospital, 9; from observation in hospital for the insane, 1; from witnessing at court, 1; because unsatisfactory in place, 2; for further training, 2; for larceny, 3; for running away from the school, 2; for running from place, 1; for being immoral while a runaway, 16; for immoral conduct, 2; because in danger of immoral conduct, 1.

Of the 200 girls discharged or released during the year 28 were released on parole to parents or relatives; on parole to other families for wages, 118; on parole to other families to attend school, earning wages, 2; on parole to other families to attend school, earning board, 2; on parole to parents to attend school, 2; from a visit to the school, 13; ran away from Industrial School, 2; transferred to hospitals, 22; to hospital for insane for observation, 2; transferred to Reformatory for Women, 4; to witness at court, 1; to private institution (Welcome House), 1; on becoming of age, 1; discharged as unfit subject, 1; died, 1.

A very high percentage of women and girls who are brought into court for bad conduct or sex offences are mentally defective. Among those who persistently fail on probation and who come finally to require custodial care the percentage is still higher, for it is the mental defective who shows that dead level of anti-social conduct which is not capable of elevation. As might be expected, therefore, the Industrial School is constantly receiving girls whose mental level makes them unpromising material for industrial training. They belong in an institution for defective delinquents. Remaining where they are they constitute a drag anchor on progress. They are in many cases not amenable to discipline. They show no appreciation of personal help or attention; are incapable of learning even the simple processes of housekeeping; and, because they are sure to do poorly on parole, tend in greater and greater measure to fill up the school with a residuum of the unreformable moron. Segregation of this class of defectives must be brought about if the Industrial School is to be allowed to carry out its proper functions to the point of success.

With an appropriation of $127,462.25, a total of $127,451.69 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $42,009.90 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $85,441.79. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $7.153. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $137.73. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $127,313.96. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 5. The trustees estimate that $141,737 will be necessary for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23, 24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

The trustees ask this year for a special appropriation to cover one minor improvement, as follows: —

1. Addition to storage building for vegetable cellar . . . $6,000

MASSACHUSETTS HOSPITAL SCHOOL.

JOHN E. FISH, M.D., Superintendent.

Opened December 1, 1907. Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $406,954.59. Normal capacity of plant, 302. Value per unit of capacity, $1,347.53.

Provides care and schooling for crippled and deformed children. Crippled and deformed children of the Commonwealth between ages of five and fifteen, and mentally competent to attend the public schools, are eligible for admission.

There were 347 cases under care during the year. This total is 10 less than in 1917, and 15 more than in 1916.

On December 1, 1917, there were 282 children, namely, 164 boys and 118 girls, in the school. Sixty-five were admitted and 88 discharged during the year. The maximum number at any one time was 291, the minimum, 216, and the daily average, 267.01, — a decrease of 5.97 below the preceding year. Two hundred fifty-nine remained in residence at the close of the year.

Influenza became epidemic among the inmates of this institution during the first week in October. As might be expected, the invasion of this disease was all the more rapid and alarming in view of the fact that the entire group contains not a single child with the normal, or anything like the normal, strength and vigor of childhood. Two hundred fifty-nine cases, representing more than three-fourths of all the persons, inmates and employees resident at the school, came down with it. Yet, in spite of the handicaps of a greatly depleted staff and a group of subjects already frail and disease ridden, the loss was confined to 10 children and 1 nurse. The death rate was thus only slightly in excess of 4 per cent among the children. This showing is due to the unremitting efforts of the superintendent and staff and to the equipment, of the superintendent's own invention, by which warm fresh air was maintained in the buildings at all times. The experience of this epidemic is a striking justification of the special monitor cottage developed and used at this school.

The Massachusetts Hospital School is an unusual example of preventive social service. The physical handicap that would otherwise enforce public dependence is combated, and the child made as much of physically as science and expert care can accomplish. Intensive study of the individual and his special needs is made to coincide with intensive vocational training in an effort to fit the subject for self-support. The result is hardly to be duplicated in institution annals.

Among the discharges during the year were 21 children, all of them so badly crippled that few would ever think of them as able even to help themselves, say nothing of providing their own livelihood, but all of whom have nevertheless gone out into the community to support themselves. A boy who could neither stand nor sit erect without support becomes a printer at a fair wage. Another who walks only upon his hands becomes a competent and self-supporting tailor. The list of occupations includes: store assistant, office assistant, bench hand, janitor, bookkeeper, telephone operator, weaver, cobbler, chauffeur, mill operative and painter. In each case the activities of the school have been turned to the special adaptability of the child.

Out of an appropriation of $114,500, a total of $110,006.67 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $41,826.61 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $68,180.06. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $7.881. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $45,771.50. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $64,235.17. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 2.6. The trustees estimate the sum of $130,658 for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23, 24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

THE STATE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIA.

The Board's supervision of tuberculosis hospitals covers the Rutland, Lakeville, North Reading and Westfield State sanatoria, and the tuberculosis wards at the State Infirmary. The four separate institutions are administered by one Board, the Trustees of Hospitals for Consumptives.

During the year these four institutions treated 2,456 cases, with a combined normal capacity of about 1,043 patients, and a daily average population of 1,068.

Of the total number cared for 1,081 were in residence at the beginning of the year. The 1,375 admissions during the year were offset by the 1,469 discharges, leaving 987 on November 30, 1918.

Of the 1,375 cases admitted, 196 were classed as incipient; 605 as moderately advanced; 554 as advanced; 1 as non-tubercular; and 19 as undetermined. Eight hundred three were males; 572, females.

The discharges were classified as follows: disease arrested, 34; apparently arrested, 172; condition improved, 431; condition not improved, 228; quiescent, 229; non-tubercular, 6; died, 227; unclassified because of shortness of stay, 142. Thus 637, or 43 per cent, of all the discharged cases that were classified were sent away either with the disease apparently arrested or with condition improved. The corresponding percentage for last year was 47.

RUTLAND STATE SANATORIUM, RUTLAND.

ERNEST B. EMERSON, M.D., Superintendent.

Opened in 1898. Total valuation of plant, real and personal, $649,443.65. Normal capacity of plant, 354. Value per unit of capacity, $1,834.58.

Provides hospital care and treatment for persons afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis.

During the year 801 patients have been under care. This total is 18 more than in 1917, and 16 less than in 1916. Of the whole number, 346 were in residence at the beginning of the year. The remaining 455 were admitted under the following classification, based upon the ascertained progress of the disease: incipient, 133, or 29.23 per cent; moderately advanced, 179, or 39.34 per cent; far advanced, 135, or 29.67 per cent; not classified, 8, or 1.75 per cent. Of the new cases males numbered 256; females, 199. Number of patients at the close of the year, 291.

The discharges numbered 510, namely, 282 males and 228 females, classified according to conditions, as follows: disease arrested, 29; apparently arrested, 41; improved, 105; not improved, 89; died, 46; quiescent, 154; unclassified, 46.

The average daily census was 347.8. The largest daily census was 372; the smallest, 282. The average for 1917 was 350.

The corresponding average for 1917 was ten months and twelve days.

The toll of the epidemic at this institution registered 90 cases with 8 deaths. The superintendent reports that in the majority of cases no effect upon the tuberculosis process has been discovered.

The most important development at this institution is the change in policy by which a larger proportion of advanced cases are admitted. The 133 incipient cases admitted are 25 per cent fewer than last year. The 179 moderately advanced patients who came in are 10 less than last year. The 135 far advanced cases are 79, or 141 per cent, more than last year. The result is immediately apparent in the smaller number of discharged cases in whom the disease was either arrested or apparently arrested.

With an appropriation of $254,000, a total of $249,213.06 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of the amount expended, $78,056.39 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $171,156.67. Weekly per capita cost of maintenance, computed on expenses less sales and refunds from maintenance, $13.659. Total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury, $49,347.71. Net cost of maintenance to the Commonwealth, $199,865.35. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1 to 2.1. The trustees estimate the sum of $267,921.50 for maintenance in 1919. (See table, pages 23, 24.) For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see pages 60-80.

The trustees submit the following estimate for the coming year, with a request for special appropriations covering the same: —

1. Fireproof vault $3,500

Sex of patients admitted: males, 173; females, 124. There has been a daily average of 69.89 bed cases, — approximately 35 per cent of the daily population.

cent; improved, 112, or 36.8 per cent; quiescent, 31, or 10.1 per cent; unimproved, 48, or 15.7 per cent; non-tubercular, 1, or .32 per cent; died, 54, or 17.8 per cent; unclassified because of shortness of stay, 39, or 12.8 per cent. Of the patients discharged the average duration of residence in the sanatorium was two hundred forty-nine days, as opposed to two hundred twenty-nine days for the preceding year. Number of patients at the end of the year, 194.

The largest daily census was 208; the smallest, 180; average, 198.39. The average for 1917 was 199.47, and for 1916, 200.34.

PENIKESE HOSPITAL, PENIKESE ISLAND.

FRANK H. PARKER, M.D., Superintendent.

Opened November 17, 1905. This institution is administered directly by the Board. Total valuation of plant, $147,793.28. Normal capacity, 19. Value per unit of capacity, $7,778.59.

Provides hospital care and treatment for persons afflicted with leprosy.

During the year 13 patients have been under care. This total is 1 more than last year, and the same as in 1916. Eleven of the patients cared for were in residence at the beginning of the year. Two were admitted and 2 died, leaving 11 on November 30, 1918.

This has been an uneventful year in the history of Penikese. There has been a gradual advance in the condition of all the patients, but none has died and none of those who were with us at the beginning of the year has shown a condition sufficient to warrant discharge.

Three new cases have been discovered since the last report, the first of whom escaped from local authorities before commitment. The second was sent to Penikese and later deported to China. The third was admitted and is now a patient. The first of the new cases, numbered 36 in our series, was receiving hospital treatment when his disease was suspected of being leprosy. While awaiting pathological and bacteriological report he disappeared, and has not been reapprehended. The second case, numbered 37, was that of a young man of 23, a student. He exhibited the tubercular form of the disease in an early stage. He was admitted to the hospital June 24, and was discharged for deportation to his home in China on November 15. This patient showed remarkable improvement while at the hospital, resulting from the use of Chaulmoogra oil. The third case, numbered 38, a native of the Cape de Verde Islands, was received at the hospital November 15. He is twenty-six years of age, single; came to the United States in 1912. His disease does not appear to be far advanced.

Attention was called in our last annual report to the passage by the Federal Congress in 1917 of an act providing for the taking over by the United States of the care, custody and treatment of all lepers in the United States, and directing the Surgeon-General's department to select a site for a national leprosarium. The war has prevented the speedier execution of this statute. It is now hoped that progress will be made toward Federal assumption, and that the excessively expensive plan of an island institution for numbers that are so small may soon be given up.

A new well has been dug and pumping facilities installed in order to tap the north gulley for additional supply. The fresh-water problem has always presented a real menace to the conduct of this hospital. With the new addition there is a sufficient quantity of good water to supply all reasonable wants for the present number of inmates and employees.

Recognition is here made of the kindly volunteer religious ministrations given to our patients by pastors and laymen during the year. Spending a day to journey to this isolated island to conduct services and bring friendship that will brighten the lives and relieve the loneliness of a dozen persons sick with leprosy is a sacrifice as well as a good turn. Rev. Nathan Bailey of New Bedford deserves our special mention for his devotion.

Out of an appropriation of $31,220, a total of $31,165.40 was expended for the maintenance of this institution. Of this amount, $11,215.84 was for salaries, wages and labor; all other expenses, $19,949.56. Ratio of daily average number of persons employed to daily average number of inmates, 1.7 to 1. For detailed analysis of receipts and expenditures, see treasurer's statement following, and also pages 60-80.

FINANCIAL SUPERVISION OF THE STATE CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

The Board in its supervision of the financial administration of the several State charitable institutions — the plant and its up-keep and maintenance — inspects each institution through paid officers monthly, also through its own committees and individual members.

Monthly analysis is made of articles of food, coal, hay and grain purchased, and tabulated results sent to each institution. In addition, sundry tabulations covering the year's operations have been prepared. The Board has co-operated with the several institutions in bringing about the joint consideration of purchasing supplies, resulting in regular conferences upon matters of common interest, especially functions of purchasing. This year, as formerly, the Board has been instrumental in bringing about the joint purchase of such staple articles as incandescent lamps. In the case of lamps, a large saving has been made in the total outlay.

The following tables are designed to show in detail the financial condition of each institution. A convenient summary of the State's property represented by each institution is followed by an analysis of receipts and a similar analysis of expenditures. Finally, a more detailed analysis of expenditures is followed by a comparison of all appropriations and the expenditures made therefrom.

I. INVENTORY.

Inventory of State property represented by the institutions is shown in Table IV. This tabulation is in four parts. Parts I. and II. exhibit realty; Part III. shows personalty; Part IV. summarizes the whole.

From Parts I. and II. it appears that on November 30, 1918, the twelve State charitable institutions returned $6,183,247.85 in real estate, $394,814.10 of this amount being land, and $5,788,433.75 representing buildings. Chattels Real and other items of betterment are not separately considered; hence water, telephone, fire and sewerage systems are to be found in the miscellaneous columns under the heading of "buildings."

Part III. shows the uniform analysis of personal property adopted by the State Auditor, to the amount of $1,657,090.09. The total valuation, real and personal, as shown in Part IV. is $7,840,337.94.

II. RECEIPTS.

Table V. is designed to show every item of income to each institution from whatever source for whatever purpose, excepting certain private funds, casting all together for ready comparison. The tabulation also shows such of the receipts as under the law are available for maintenance purposes in 1919. According to this table the total receipts from all sources were $3,163,748.75. Of this amount, $2,883,964.33 was received from the State treasury, and the remainder, $279,784.42, came in on account of the institution, through board of patients, sale of products or otherwise. Of this latter figure, $204,524.18 is available for maintenance purposes in 1919.

III. EXPENDITURES.

Table VI., divided into four parts, shows all expenditures of whatever nature on account of the several institutions. Part I. deals with maintenance only. Part II. exhibits outlays for special purposes, divided into four headings, namely, "land," "buildings," "furnishings and equipment" and "miscellaneous." In Part III. are shown all moneys expended for purposes so far apart from the institution proper as to fall outside the uniform classifications. With two exceptions trustees' expenses appear in the miscellaneous column under "maintenance." These two exceptions are expenses of the trustees of the training schools and of the trustees in charge of the State sanatoria. Because of various duties these two Boards of Trustees have appropriations apart from the grants for their institutions. Part III., in addition to these special outlays, shows also the industries fund administered by the trustees in charge of the State Farm. This fund is self-perpetuating, and, though a State outlay, is so far separate as to require individual treatment in the classification. Part IV. summarizes the whole.

The table shows that $2,510,102.26 was spent for maintenance, exclusive of expenditures for special purposes mentioned in Part II., which amounted to $90,753.68. By adding to these amounts $283,108.39 for sundry expenditures, as shown in Part III., we find a grand total of $2,883,964.33 expended on account of the twelve institutions. The abnormally high prices that have prevailed and still continue for all food products and materials account, as indicated above, for the relatively low inventory at the end of the year, and foreshadow much larger total outlays for 1919, with correspondingly higher per capitas.

In addition to the total expenditures as indicated above, two institutions — Lyman School and the Industrial School for Girls — have private trust funds which are administered for the benefit of inmates, but independently of the State's investment. The custody of each is vested in the State Treasurer, whose duty it is to invest the same and to pay therefrom at the request of the trustees. Three of those trusts — the Lyman fund, the Lyman trust fund and the Lamb fund — apply to Lyman School, while the Fay, the Mary Lamb and the Rogers book fund pertain to the Industrial School for Girls. From these sources a total of $784.04 was expended during the year, of which $53.34 was from the Mary Lamb fund, $100 from the Fay fund, and the balance from the Rogers book fund and Lyman trust fund. The major part of the outlay was for entertainments, drill and band equipment, athletic goods, lectures, prizes and similar miscellaneous items.

IV. ANALYSIS OF MAINTENANCE AND NET PER CAPITA COST.

The uniform analysis of maintenance expenditures comprises twelve classes or divisions, namely, "salaries and wages;" "religious instruction;" "travel, transportation and office expenses;" "food;" "clothing and materials;" "furnishings and household supplies;" "medical and general care;" "heat, light and power;" "farm and stable;" "grounds;" "repairs, ordinary;" and "repairs and renewals." Table VII. is correspondingly divided into thirteen parts, the last of which is a summary of the whole, and shows for each of the twelve institutions the total cost of maintenance for each of the main headings in the analysis. It further shows all receipts from sales or refunds; the difference, which is the net cost to the institution; and the average net weekly per capita cost to the institution, with a column showing the corresponding per capita for the three-year period just ended.

V. COMPARISON OF APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES THEREFROM.

Table VIII. affords comparison of appropriations for maintenance with the respective amounts expended therefrom. Appropriations are classified as "receipts available for maintenance" and "appropriations in addition to such receipts." All receipts at the four sanatoria, the Hospital School and the Norfolk State Hospital, though turned, like receipts of all the other institutions, into the State treasury, are by law applicable to maintenance in the succeeding year. Receipts at the remaining institutions are not so applied. By this comparison the total maintenance expenditures were $111,670.19 less than the amounts appropriated. This balance reverts into the treasury.

Receipts of 1917 available for maintenance in 1918 totaled $216,892.21. This sum was received largely on account of board of patients at the State sanatoria and the Hospital School.

VI. APPROPRIATIONS FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES.

The total of appropriations for special purposes during 1918 as shown by Table IX. was $117,120. In addition to this amount the several institutions began the year with a total of $78,813.32 unexpended balance on previous special appropriations. The grand total available for 1918 was, therefore, $195,933.32. The amount expended from this total was $90,753.68, leaving an unexpended balance of $105,179.64, of which $103,954.08 will be available in 1919. The small remainder of $1,225.56 reverts to the State treasury.

VII. NET COST TO THE COMMONWEALTH.

The net cost to the State of maintaining or conducting each institution is the difference between total expenditures and the total receipts from all sources other than the State treasury. These total expenditures must cover all moneys spent for maintenance and special purposes, together with all outlays for sundry purposes, apart from the institution, and interest on outstanding bonds. These items are compared in Table X. For convenience the daily average number of inmates and the net weekly per capita cost to the State are added. This tabulation shows a daily average number of inmates of 6,478.67, and expenditures for all purposes of $2,957,179.48. Total receipts from institutions, i.e., sources other than the State treasury, amounted to $279,784.42. The net cost to the State for all twelve institutions amounted to $2,677,395.06, making the net weekly per capita cost to the State $7.925.

VIII. ANALYSIS OF PAY ROLL.

Table XI., divided into six parts, shows a comparative analysis of the pay roll for each of the twelve institutions. The first five parts divide service into five classes, namely, "general administration," "medical service," "ward service," "repairs" and "farm, stable and grounds." Part VI. summarizes the whole. The table shows the full roster, that is, the number of employees deemed necessary to carry on the institution efficiently, and in opposite columns the daily average number employed in 1917 and 1918, with the same average for the three-year period ending November 30, 1917. The same treatment is given the average monthly compensation and the weekly per capita cost. Thus it appears that the full roster for all the institutions together was 1,356,922. The total average number employed was 1,287,238, while for the three-year period preceding 1918 it was 1,389,552. The total average monthly compensation paid was $626.827, as against $566.311 in the preceding three-year period. Miscellaneous and incidental employment not entered upon the pay rolls of the institutions does not appear in this tabulation. The number of inmates to one employee is slightly less than last year in most of the institutions.

THE COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOLS.

Under the provisions of Revised Laws, chapter 46, section 2, the five county training schools for truants and habitual school offenders are subject to the visitation of this Board, which is required to report thereon in its annual report. The schools are as follows: —

Essex County Training School, Lawrence.

Hampden County Training School, Springfield.

Middlesex County Training School, North Chelmsford.

Norfolk, Bristol and Plymouth Union Training School, Walpole.

Worcester County Training School, Oakdale (West Boylston).

The accompanying table shows the number and movement of population in these institutions for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1918, and also the average weekly per capita cost of maintenance, subtracting all receipts from private sources.

As will be seen from the table there were 615 children in the five schools during 1918. The year opened with 406. In the succeeding twelve months 209 were admitted, and 194 were discharged, leaving 421 in residence at the close of the year. This figure is 26 more than the corresponding number for 1917, — an increase made up chiefly by the decline in releases at the Middlesex school rather than to more commitments. In a year when the State training schools for boys have been crowded as never before in their history, the county schools have shown very little actual increase. While this may be due to many factors, its impelling cause is probably the gradual growth of probation and the use of the special class in the public schools.

The average age of the children at the time of their admittance was twelve years, seventeen days. Every child must be discharged, by requirement of the statute, upon reaching the age of sixteen.

THE SETTLED ADULT POOR PROVIDED FOR IN FAMILIES.

Of the 254 adult poor persons reported by the local authorities as fully supported in families on January 1, 1918, 8 were unknown, 23 had died, and 12 had been removed before visits could be made. For their support they were paid in 10 cases less than $2 per week; in 37 cases, from $2 to $3 per week; in 52 cases, from $3 to $4 per week; and in 113 cases — mostly of old and feeble persons — the rate varied from $4 to $10.50, according to the amount of care required. Of the whole number, 47 per cent were reported to be in fairly good, or good, physical condition, and 72 per cent in good mental condition. In all but 5 cases, or 2 per cent, they were apparently receiving good care. There were 96 able to do light work, either in the house or about the premises. There were 19 supported in their own homes. In 122 cases, according to the reports, the overseers of the poor complied with the law requiring them to visit these persons at least once in every six months; in 25 cases they made one visit a year; in 8 cases the record of visits was uncertain; and in the remaining 56 cases no evidence of visits was found.

DEPENDENT MINOR CHILDREN WITH SETTLEMENT PROVIDED FOR IN ALMSHOUSES.

Visits were made in the cases of 110 children — 48 boys and 62 girls — reported to be cared for by the following cities and towns in their almshouses: Amesbury, 1; Barnstable, 2; Boston, 70; Brookline, 1; Cambridge, 3; Charlton, 2; Fairhaven, 1; Gloucester, 2; Harwich, 1; Haverhill, 2; Lawrence, 5; Lowell, 5; Malden, 1; Mansfield, 2; New Bedford, 3; Newburyport, 1; North Attleborough, 2; Rockport, 1; Salem, 2; Worcester, 3. Sections 39-42 of chapter 81 of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 115 of the Acts of 1905, are as follows: —

SECTION 39. Overseers of the poor shall keep full and accurate records, in a form prescribed by the state board of charity, of the paupers fully supported, the persons relieved and partially supported, and the travellers and vagrants lodged at the expense of their cities and towns and of the amount paid for such support and relief.

SUPERVISION OF MOTHERS' AID.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 763, Acts of 1913, the State Board of Charity is required in its annual report to the Legislature to make: (a) a report on the work done by its own agents and by the overseers of the poor in respect to such families any of whose members are without legal settlement in the Commonwealth; and (b) a separate report on the work done by the overseers in respect to such families all of whose members have a legal settlement in the Commonwealth. The text of the law is as follows: —

ACTS OF 1913, CHAPTER 763.

AN ACT TO PROVIDE FOR SUITABLY AIDING MOTHERS WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN.

SECTION 1. In every city and town the overseers of the poor shall, subject to the provisions of the subsequent sections of this act, aid all mothers with dependent children under fourteen years of age, if such mothers are fit to bring up their children. The aid furnished shall be sufficient to enable the mothers to bring up their children properly in their own homes; and such mothers and their children shall not be deemed to be paupers by reason of receiving aid as aforesaid.

SECTION 2. Before aiding any mother under the foregoing section, except as hereinafter provided, the overseers of the poor shall determine that the mother is fit to bring up her children and that the other members of the household and the surroundings of the home are such as to make for good character, and that aid from the overseers is necessary to enable her to bring up her children properly, by making an immediate and careful inquiry including the resources of the family and the ability of its other members, if any, to work or otherwise contribute to its support, the existence of relatives able to assist the family, and of individuals, societies or agencies who may be interested therein; shall take all lawful means to compel all persons bound to support the mother and children to support them, and to enforce any other legal rights for their benefit; shall press all members of the family who are able to work, other than the mother and her dependent children, to secure work; shall try to secure work for them; and shall secure all necessary aid for the mother and children which can be secured from relatives, organizations or individuals. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the overseers from giving prompt and suitable temporary aid hereunder, pending compliance with the requirements of this section, when in their opinion such aid is necessary and cannot be obtained from other sources. A detailed statement of expenses incurred under this section shall be rendered to the state board of charity, together with such certificates or other guarantees as the said board may require.

SECTION 3. The said overseers, either by one of their own number or by their duly appointed agent, shall visit at least once in every three months at their homes or other place or places where they may be living, each mother and her dependent children who are being aided financially or otherwise by said overseers, and after each visit shall make and keep on file as a part of their official records a detailed statement of the condition of the home and family and all other data which may assist in determining the wisdom of the measures taken and the advisability of their continuance; and said overseers shall at least once in each year reconsider the case of each mother with dependent children with whom they are dealing, and enter their determination with the reason therefor on their official records.

SECTION 4. This act shall apply to all mothers and their dependent children, whether or not they or any of them may have a settlement within the commonwealth, who shall have resided in the commonwealth not less than three years. No person shall acquire a settlement or be in process of acquiring a settlement while receiving aid hereunder.

SECTION 5. The state board of charity shall hereafter supervise the work done and measures taken by the overseers of the poor of the several cities and towns in respect to families in which there is one child or more under the age of fourteen, whether or not such family or any member thereof has a settlement within the commonwealth; and for this purpose may establish such rules relative to notice as they deem necessary and may visit and inspect any or all families aided under this act and shall have access to any records and other data kept by the overseers of the poor or their representatives relating to such aid; and said board shall, in its annual report to the legislature, report upon the work done by its own agents and by the overseers of the poor in respect to such families any of whose members are without legal settlement in the commonwealth; and shall make a separate report on the work done by the overseers of the poor in respect to such families in which all the members have a legal settlement in the commonwealth.

SECTION 6. In respect to all mothers in receipt of aid hereunder the city or town rendering the aid shall be reimbursed by the commonwealth, after approval of the bills by the state board of charity, for one third of the amount of the aid given. If the mother so aided has no settlement, the city or town shall be reimbursed for the total amount of the aid given after approval of the bills by the state board of charity as aforesaid. If the mother so aided has a lawful settlement in another city or town two thirds of the amount of such aid given may be recovered in an action of contract against the city or town liable therefor in accordance with the provisions of chapter eighty-one of the Revised Laws and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

SECTION 7. For the purpose of reimbursing the cities and towns, as provided in the foregoing section, there shall be appropriated from the treasury of the commonwealth the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the operations of the first year.

SECTION 8. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 9. This act shall take effect on the first day of September, nineteen hundred and thirteen. [Approved June 12, 1913.]

Out of its experience in the execution of this law, and under authority contained therein, the Board has developed the following policies and rules of procedure: —

POLICIES.

1. Money on Hand. — Aid should not be granted to a mother who has funds in excess of $200. The applicant should be required to show her bank book to the overseers when she applies for mothers' aid.

2. Equity in Property. — The State Board of Charity is willing to approve aid to an applicant who has an equity not exceeding $500 in real estate, upon which the family resides, the assessed value of which does not exceed $2,000, provided that in the case of a widow the property has not been acquired since her husband's death, and further provided that no payments are made on the mortgage other than a reasonable rate of interest; taxes to be abated whenever possible. All other cases involving ownership of property should be referred to the Board for approval before aid is granted.

Aid should not be granted to a mother if she has equity in property in excess of $500; if the assessed value of the property is more than $1,500; or if the payments on the mortgage are other than a reasonable rate of interest; or, in the case of a widow, if the equity has been acquired since her husband's death. Taxes on property should be abated whenever possible.

3. Temporary Need. — Aid should not be granted to a mother unless it seems probable that need of aid under this law will exist for more than one year.

4. Desertion. — Aid should not be granted to a mother whose husband has deserted his family, unless a warrant for non-support has been issued under the provisions of chapter 456, Acts of 1911; until one year has elapsed since the desertion occurred; and until every effort has been made to apprehend the deserting husband.

5. Insurance. — Considering the allowance for burial expenses, aid should not be granted to a mother who is paying insurance upon the lives of her children or upon the lives of other relatives; also, aid should not be granted to a mother who is paying insurance upon her own life or upon the life of her totally incapacitated husband if such policies can be converted into paid-up policies, or if they have a reasonable cash surrender value.

6. Burial. — It is the desire of the State Board of Charity that the allowance for burial shall be wholly suitable. When the overseers are in doubt the State Board of Charity will be glad to advise.

7. Medical Aid. — Medical aid required by the mother or dependent children under fourteen years of age, either in the home or in the hospital, should be granted under the provisions of this act. Medical aid for other members of the family should be granted under the provisions of regular relief statutes. Reimbursement by the Commonwealth for medical aid in the home will be made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 292, Acts of 1909. Reimbursement by the Commonwealth for hospital aid will be made at a flat rate not exceeding $10.50 per week.

8. Tuberculosis. — Aid should not be granted to a mother if a member of the family has tuberculosis in a communicable stage unless such person shall apply for admission to a sanatorium, and shall agree, pending admission to the sanatorium, to conduct himself in a manner prescribed by the local health authorities, and also unless the other members of the family have been examined for tuberculosis.

9. Male Lodgers. — Aid should not be granted to a mother if she has male lodgers or boarders other than the father or brother of applicant.

10. Illegitimate Children. — Aid should not be granted to a mother with illegitimate children unless with the approval of the State Board of Charity.

11. Woman with One Child. — Aid should not be granted to a mother whose only child is under fourteen years of age, unless the mother, by reason of illness of either mother or child, is unable to provide proper support.

12. Part-time Work for Mother. — Only such part-time work as the mother can do without detriment to her health and without neglecting her home and her children should be encouraged. If a member of a family of working age claims to be unable to work because of illness a physician should examine the person to determine his ability to work and to prescribe for his medical needs.

13. Work for Children over Fourteen Years of Age. — Every dependent child upon reaching the age of fourteen years should go to work for the time allowed by the school attendance laws, provided that he is physically able to work, and also provided that suitable employment can be obtained for him.

14. Kind of Aid (Method of Disbursement). — Cash aid should be granted in every case if the mother is found to be competent to manage cash. All allowances should be granted weekly. A card catalogue system rather than a pay roll is recommended. Checks on the city or town treasurer, post office money orders, or registered letters are approved methods of disbursement.

15. Amount of Aid. — Family Budget: In determining the amount of aid necessary for a given family, not only the number of persons in an applicant's family, but also the health, the age and the capabilities of each member of the family should be considered. The former income and the former standards of living of the family, as well as the standards of self-supporting citizens in the neighborhood, should also be considered.

The amount of weekly aid should vary with the changing needs of the family. For instance, aid should be increased in time of sickness; and it should be decreased proportionately as the earning capacity, or the income of the family from any other source, increases. Aid should be discontinued as soon as the family becomes self-supporting.

Weekly Expenses: The following items of expense are suggested for the careful consideration of the overseers when estimating the amount of aid necessary for a given family: —

Food — Extra food allowance should be made for members of the family who are predisposed to tuberculosis or who are convalescing from illness. In large families the per capita food allowance may be somewhat reduced.

Rent — a reasonable amount for a suitable tenement of proper size in a desirable location.

Fuel —

Clothing —

Weekly Income: The following sources of weekly income should be carefully considered by the overseers in estimating the weekly income of a given family: —

Income from funds, pensions, rentals, etc.

Aid from relatives and societies.

Net wages of mother for part-time work.

Net wages of children of working age.

The amount of aid needed by a given family may be estimated by finding the difference between its adequate weekly expenditures and the weekly income.

RULES RELATIVE TO NOTICE AND REIMBURSEMENT BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

1. An applicant for mothers' aid should apply in person to the overseers of the poor of the city or town where she resides, and she should file a statement as to her resources and her needs on Form 1479.

2. Aid should be rendered directly to the applicant, or, in case of illness, to her authorized adult representative. Minor children should not be allowed to call at the overseers' office for mothers' aid.

3. Overseers of the poor should notify the State Board of Charity on Form 1477 or 1478 when they begin to aid, under the provisions of chapter 763, Acts of 1913, and such original notice shall remain in force until the case is closed.

4. When a recipient of mothers' aid moves out of a city or town the case should be closed. A new application for mothers' aid should be made to the overseers of the poor of the town to which the family has removed.

5. Whenever a case is closed by the overseers of the poor, the overseers should notify the State Board of Charity of the date when the last aid was rendered, and state their reasons for closing the case on Form 1475.

6. Whenever an applicant changes her address the overseers of the poor should notify the State Board of Charity.

7. If a case that has been closed is reopened the overseers should state upon the new notice their reasons for reopening the case.

8. If the overseers of the poor and the State Board of Charity consider it is for the welfare of the family, reimbursement will be approved by the Commonwealth during the absence on vacation of the mother or any of her dependent children. During the temporary absence from the State of a recipient of mothers' aid, the weekly payments under the mothers' aid law should be suspended unless otherwise authorized by the State Board of Charity.

9. After each quarterly visit (as required by section 3, chapter 763), the overseers of the poor should report to the State Board of Charity on Form 1475 as to conditions in the home and as to the continuance or discontinuance of aid. These quarterly reports serve as renewal notices and as reports of the result of the yearly reconsideration of the case.

10. Reimbursement by the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of section 6, chapter 763, will not be allowed for more than ten days prior to the date of mailing of the original notice.

11. Application for burial expenses should be made upon Form 1480, and this statement should be filed with the bill claiming reimbursement from the Commonwealth.

12. In all cases the overseers of the poor shall furnish satisfactory proof that the applicant has resided in Massachusetts for three years next prior to the date of her application for mothers' aid.

13. In cases where the overseers of the poor claim that the mother aided has no legal settlement, the overseers of the poor shall furnish satisfactory proof that there is no settlement in any city or town in Massachusetts.

14. In cases where the mother aided has a lawful settlement in another city or town of the Commonwealth, the overseers shall notify such city or town when they begin to aid on Form 1470. Denial of settlement must be made by the overseers of the poor thus notified within thirty days.

15. Bills should be rendered to the Commonwealth semi-annually, for the periods ending April 30 and October 31.

In accordance with the foregoing requirements the following report for the year ending November 30, 1918, is submitted.

From the tabulation on page 106 it appears that since September 1, 1913, the date when this law went into effect, notices of claims for reimbursement by cities and towns have reached the State Board of Charity involving a total of 7,651 mothers with 24,464 dependent children under fourteen years of age. Thirteen per cent of the whole number were without legal settlement in the Commonwealth. The State, as required by section 6 of the statute, reimbursed the entire amount of aid, therefore, in 13 per cent of the cases, and one-third in the remaining 87 per cent. Since the total expenditures from the State for reimbursement were $1,674,999.36 in this period, it is possible to approximate closely the total paid out by cities and towns for mothers' aid, and the grand total of all amounts except overhead expenses paid out of government funds under this law. The local outlay would be $2,211,679.22, and the grand total paid from public funds since the law went into effect, $3,886,678.58.

A noteworthy feature of the relative burdens of the State and the cities and towns under mothers' aid is the gradual increase in the proportion of unsettled cases and the consequent upward trend of the State's contribution.

The following tabulation indicates these proportions and the estimated total of outlays, excepting overhead expenses. For the State service this item of overhead expense has closely approximated $65,700 for the period beginning September 1, 1913, and closing November 30, 1918. For the cities and towns the figure is unascertained.

During the year 213 cities and towns out of the total of 354 gave aid under this law. This total is 5 higher than last year. See list on page 107 following. There were 1,058 notices received claiming reimbursement for aid rendered to families which had legal settlement, and 225 covering families having no legal settlement, making a total of 1,283 notices for the year, an increase of 226 over the preceding year.

In connection with the increase in the number of families receiving mothers' aid it is worthy of note that numbers jumped at a rapid rate following the epidemic of influenza. In the two months' period covered by October and November, 1918, there were 493 notices, while in the corresponding period for 1917 the total was only 168. Yet this period was largely in the epidemic, when life insurance and the help of friends were undoubtedly serving in a considerable degree to keep many families from public dependency. Beginning in the second month of that period, and continuing down into the new year, the number of dependent families resulting from the disease is so great as to render the estimates for mothers' aid appropriations for 1919 entirely problematical. Not the least factor in the estimate of future dependency resulting from the ravages of influenza is the fact that almost all the fathers who died were young men in the prime of life, — the founders of very young families.

In 299 of the families coming to aid in 1918 the father was living. An examination of the causes of dependency in this group shows that in 49 per cent the father was incapacitated by sickness, namely, 37 per cent by tuberculosis and 12 per cent by other diseases. Fifteen per cent of the fathers were insane. Thus, 65 per cent of the living fathers were incapacitated either by disease or by insanity. The remainder were classed as irresponsible. Twenty-five per cent, one-fourth of the entire group of living fathers, had deserted their families. Seven per cent were in jail and one per cent had been divorced or were separated.

The average rate of weekly aid per family during 1918 was $8.34. Out of a total of 1,239 families in which the amount of aid per week was definitely stated on the notice, 253 families were receiving $10 a week; 119 were receiving $12; 21 were receiving $14; and 13 were receiving $15. The largest amount given to any one family was $24 a week; the smallest, $1.50. Eight families were receiving $2 each per week. The typical mothers' aid family is that of a young mother, with a number of little children who require her whole time and attention, without resources of her own and with no relatives able to assist. These families require the greatest amount of aid. The type of family receiving the smaller amount is usually that in which some of the children are gradually coming into working age, and are affording a large share of the family support.

The cost of living is still very high. There has not been a corresponding permanent increase in wages. In 1914 a schedule of food allowance per week was worked out by this department, as follows: —

Food for mother	$1 50
Food for children fourteen years and over, per child	1 50
Food for children between five and fourteen years, each	1 25
Food for children under five years, each	1 00

In 1916 a 25 per cent increase over these allowances was recommended to the overseers. In 1917 the recommendation was raised to 40 per cent over the original allowance. At the same time the old allowance of $1 a week for fuel and 50 cents a week per member for clothing was materially advanced. As fuel has been scarce it is frequently recommended that fuel be given in lieu of a part of the cash allowance. The same situation has obtained in regard to clothing, in particular to shoes.

Taken altogether, the excessive cost of the necessities of life, the necessity of using food substitutes, the epidemic and the exorbitant cost of funerals, aggravated at the height of the epidemic by the abnormal demand for undertakers' services, have made it a hard year for the mothers' aid families of Massachusetts. The amount of aid has increased, but it has not advanced in proportion to the needs. The retarding effect of limited appropriations has done much to slow up this necessary increase. It must therefore be said that mothers' aid as now extended is far from adequate to satisfy the justifiable needs in many cases.

Now, as heretofore, in the operation of the mothers' aid law, one of the greatest needs of the family is for instruction in household economies. The idea of the visiting housekeeper requires extensive development to bring into these homes a degree of knowledge and friendly help that will make the money given out of public funds as valuable in the hands of the mother as the public can rightfully expect it to be.

SUPERVISION OF WAYFARERS' LODGES AND PUBLIC LODGING HOUSES.

Acts of 1914, chapter 606, places upon the Board the duty of annual inspection of all wayfarers' lodges and public lodging houses whose charges are 25 cents or less for each person per day. The text of the act is as follows: —

CHAPTER 606, ACTS OF 1914.

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH STATE SUPERVISION OF WAYFARERS' LODGES AND PUBLIC LODGING HOUSES.

SECTION 1. Every building, lodge, enclosure or establishment in which wayfarers, tramps, wanderers, needy persons or persons out of work are habitually fed or provided with a place to sleep, whether under public or private management, shall be deemed a wayfarers' lodge within the meaning of this act. Every building not licensed as an inn, having a capacity for housing ten or more persons, in which persons are lodged for a price of twenty-five cents or less for each person for a day of twenty-four hours, or for any part thereof, or free, or in return for any work, service or value rendered, shall be deemed a public lodging house within the meaning of this act.

SECTION 2. The state board of charity shall visit and inspect, at least once in each year, every wayfarers' lodge and every public lodging house found within the commonwealth, and for this purpose shall be authorized to enter upon any premises where such lodge or lodging house is maintained, at any or all times of the day or night.

SECTION 3. The said board shall have authority to consult with and advise individuals or officers conducting any such lodge or lodging house regarding the conduct of the same and the best methods of serving the public welfare thereby, and may, in its discretion, transmit a statement of its findings as a result of its inspection or consultation to any person, officer or board properly interested therein.

SECTION 4. The said board may require of all persons, officers or boards conducting a wayfarers' lodge or a public lodging house such reports of facts and circumstances relative thereto, its inmates and its administration as the board may deem advisable.

SECTION 5. The said board shall include in its annual report to the governor and council a detailed report of its inspection and supervision hereunder, and such other matters relating to wayfarers' lodges and public lodging houses as it may deem proper.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage.
[Approved June 2, 1914.]

Each year since the passage of this statute the Board has sought an appropriation sufficient to allow the appointment of an inspector to carry on this work, but no appropriation has thus far been granted, and no inspector has been appointed.

Such inspection as the Board has been able to accomplish, therefore, has been carried out by the inspector of almshouses. The results of the year's examinations follow: —

There are three classes of establishments falling within the provisions of this act: —

1. Commercial; managed for profit, and not connected with charities in any way.

2. Charitable; maintained by philanthropic organizations.

3. Municipal; supported by municipal funds and managed usually in connection with wood yards.

The abnormal demand for labor, with consequent absence of unemployment, has made a hard year for low-paid lodging houses. Some have been closed. Those that have continued have had to resort to many expedients, such as closing the upper floors to reduce overhead expenses and make the business pay without an excessive raising of prices.

As might be expected, also, these same abnormal demands for labor are responsible for a change in the character of the patronage. The stable element of laboring men who make up a large proportion of the lodgers in normal times has dwindled, while the proportion of transients has risen. The floater is a less desirable lodger in ordinary times. Under the war conditions of 1918 he is still more apt to be the irresponsible wanderer who begs for his lodgings.

The commercial houses in Boston are with one exception located either in the South End or on the water front. Of the group at the South End, three, with a normal capacity of 569 beds, are under a single management. On the water front are six commercial establishments with a total normal bed capacity of 525.

In each of these Boston houses the plant was found to be clean and sanitary. The beds were fair, and other facilities adequate. Prices have advanced somewhat, and now stand at 20 and 25 cents. Lockers and individual towels are provided.

The city of Boston maintains the Wayfarers' Lodge, with 192 beds, where men obtain food and lodging in exchange for work in the wood yard. The Chardon Street Home affords corresponding facilities for feeding and housing women and children.

The charitable houses are: —

The Boston Industrial Home, 17 Davis Street, 95 beds, prices 15 and 20 cents; work allowed in payment.

Boston Ladies' Bethel Society, 8 North Bennet Street, 15 beds for men at 25 cents.

Eastern Missionary Association, 111 Webster Street, East Boston, 40 beds for men at 25 cents.

Immigrants' Home, 72 Marginal Street, East Boston.

Rufus A. Dawes Hotel, 535 beds, 10 cents.

The Dawes Hotel has been taken over by the United States government and is therefore discontinued temporarily as a lodging house.

Standards in these several places vary somewhat, though conditions in all are fair.

In Fall River there is one commercial house and two charitable. The total bed capacity is 143. One of these latter, conducted by the Salvation Army, has wooden cubicles, but is kept clean. Lodgers occupy mostly by the week. The Rescue Mission, which is the other charitable house, is unfavorably located above a shop containing large quantities of inflammable materials, old furniture and clothing; and under a loft which was, at the time of inspection, being used in the manufacture of women's garments. The bed linen in this house was found to be not as clean as good standards would require.

Lawrence has one commercial house in good condition. Lowell has one in fair condition. The two houses formerly operating in Lynn have both been closed, one of them by action of the local board of health. New Bedford has two charitable lodging houses, only one of which is in use. This house, The City Mission, corner of Mill and Second streets, has a poor location, where the fire hazard is apparent. The only house in Salem conducted by the Salvation Army has been closed this year. The city of Springfield conducts a Wayfarers' Lodge and wood yard. As times are good, there are few applications for lodging.

Including the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association at West Springfield, the city has four charitable houses, namely: —

The Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, 15 Railroad Terrace, 87 beds, single rooms and cubicles for men, prices 25 to 75 cents; also a lunch room.

The Springfield Rescue Mission, 36 Willow Street, 100 beds for men, 15 to 25 cents.

The Home for Friendless Women, Williams Street.

The Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, West Springfield, 108 beds for men, 25 to 75 cents, with lunch room.

These institutions are clean and well managed. The West Springfield building is new and was built for the purpose.

ADMINISTRATIVE DUTIES OF THE BOARD.

THE STATE OUTDOOR POOR.

Numbers.

The statutes provide that the expense of such relief, following proper notice to the Board, and approval after consideration, shall be reimbursed by the Commonwealth. In accordance with these laws, 16,044 such notices were received during the official year from 212 cities and towns on account of 30,563 persons and 11,628 patients, a net decrease of 1,749, or about $9\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, from the previous year. Of these notices 8,541, concerning 8,541 individuals, were on account of persons too sick to be removed; 2,802 notices, concerning 2,802 individuals, were on account of persons sick with dangerous diseases; 343 notices, concerning 1,519 individuals, were for cases of wife-settlement; and 4,358 notices, covering 17,701 individuals, were for temporary aid and transportation. Of the total number of notices above mentioned, 2,618, concerning 6,281 individuals, were in cases on account of which a previous notice had been received during the year.

(a) Cases of Sick State Poor. — The 8,541 notices of sick State poor were sent by 141 cities and towns concerning 8,541 persons who were represented as too ill to be removed. This number shows a net increase in the number of notices over the previous year of 619, or about $7\frac{4}{5}$ per cent, and, as compared with the official year 1915-16, an increase of 258, or about $3\frac{1}{10}$ per cent. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 2,149 in November, and the smallest, 481, in July. Of these notices numbering 8,541, 3,807, or about $44\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, were from the city of Boston, viz., 3,788 from the Boston City Hospital, 16 from the institutions department, 2 from the Boston Lying-In Hospital and 1 in the home. The number of visits made by the officers of the Board in the investigation of these 8,541 notices was 15,341. As a result of these investigations the overseers of the poor were directed to discontinue aid in 979 cases on account of the recovery of the patient sufficiently to permit of his removal to the State Infirmary. In 199 cases aid was refused because at the time of the application the patient could have been removed without danger. Out of the 6,067 cases investigated by the visitors, settlements were found in 130, covering 130 persons. Among those reported as sick there were 769 deaths.

(b) Cases of Dangerous Diseases. — The number of notices received was 2,802 from 99 cities and towns concerning 2,802 persons, all patients. These figures show a net decrease of 864, or about $23\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, from the previous year, and, as compared with the year 1915-16, a decrease of 721, or $20\frac{2}{5}$ per cent. Of these 2,802 notices, 1,041, or about $37\frac{1}{10}$ per cent, were from the city of Boston. The following diseases were reported: Anterior poliomyelitis, 9; cerebrospinal meningitis, 27; diphtheria, 829; gonorrhea, 2; measles, 244; ophthalmia neonatorum, 55; scarlet fever, 385; smallpox, 18; suppurative conjunctivitis, 9; syphilis, 2; tuberculosis, 1,128; typhoid fever, 93. The number of visits made by the officers of the Board in these cases was 6,578, and of 1,812 new cases investigated, settlements were found in 191, covering 191 persons.

(c) Cases of Wife-settlement. — The number of notices received was 343 from 27 cities and towns concerning 1,519 persons, of whom 285 were sick. These figures show a net decrease in the number of notices as compared with the previous year of 198, or about $36\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and, as compared with the year 1915-16, a decrease of 565, or about $62\frac{1}{5}$ per cent. Of these 343 notices, 187, or about $54\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, were from the city of Boston. As these 343 notices represent men whose families have settlements in some city or town within the Commonwealth, and 10 of these men were found to have a settlement, the total number aided by the State was 333, of whom 176 were sick. The number of visits made in the cases was 377. As a result of these visits aid was refused in 3 cases.

(d) Cases of Temporary Aid. — The number of notices received was 4,358 concerning 17,701 persons from 187 cities and towns. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 1,694 in January, and the smallest number, 136, in June. The whole number shows a net decrease as compared with the preceding year of 1,306, or about 23 per cent, and with the year 1915–16, a decrease of 807, or about $15\frac{3}{8}$ per cent. Of these notices, 574, or about $13\frac{1}{10}$ per cent, were received from the city of Boston. The number of visits made under these notices was 4,638. There were 1,243 new cases investigated by the agents of the Board and 211 settlements were found, covering 819 persons. As a result of visitation, aid was discontinued in 373 cases, and in 7 cases aid was refused.

Transportation has been furnished during the year to 68 persons. Of these, 8 were sent to Canada and 60 to other States, as follows: Connecticut, 13; Illinois, 1; Maine, 1; New Hampshire, 2; New Jersey, 1; New York, 18; Rhode Island, 3; Vermont, 21. (Revised Laws, chapter 81, section 21.)

Transportation has also been provided for 47 shipwrecked seamen, — 12 from Chatham to Boston, 4 from Plymouth to Bath, Me., 31 from Nantucket to New Bedford and Boston. (Revised Laws, chapter 66, section 7.)

Cost.

The number, amount and allowance of the bills examined by the Board on account of cases of sick State poor, wife-settlement, dangerous diseases, temporary aid and burials are shown in the following tabulation. It is to be noted that the total shown in this table may vary somewhat from the total paid out of the treasury during the fiscal year from the appropriation in question. This possible variance arises from the fact that bills audited by this Board are in some cases not actually paid during the year for which the audit is shown. For actual expenditure out of these respective appropriations see page 161.

SOCIAL SERVICE FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN DISCHARGED FROM THE STATE INFIRMARY.

The Board has administrative control of all discharges from the Massachusetts State Infirmary. In the discharge of this function it carries on follow-up work with the mother and baby cases leaving that institution.

Six hundred twenty-nine in this group, 69 of whom were girls between fifteen and twenty-one, and 145 of whom were children under fifteen, were admitted to the State Infirmary. In 100 cases the mother and child were admitted together. One hundred three of all these admissions were pregnant when received.

The discharges totaled 606, of whom 45 were absconders. Of the remainder, 29 were returned to court custody, and a like number were released to the care of other institutions or agencies, public or private. Sixteen went directly to their husbands, while 49 were turned over to other relatives or friends. Thirty-seven went to employment previously arranged for. The instances of mothers discharged with their children numbered 365, and are not included in the above itemization of method of release. These mother and baby cases are classified in somewhat more detail, as follows: —

Women and Girls admitted in 1918.

Eighty-one children were born at the Infirmary during the year, the total representing less than half the average in normal years. Fifty-nine were illegitimate.

The average daily census of mother and baby cases at the Infirmary during this year has been 60. They represent a problem of great difficulty, — not the least element in it being the constantly high proportion of the feeble-minded. Some of these defectives have been retained for long periods of time, because they are breeders of illegitimates and spreaders of disease if released into the community, and the State has no institutional facilities for the feeble-minded that can take charge of them. At the close of the year there were 14 such cases awaiting commitment to our schools for the feeble-minded.

The Board renders field service in the nature of follow-up and after-care of these mother and baby cases. They form a difficult problem, lacking in resources, without friends, not wanted as domestics if their infants are to come with them, yet required to mother their little ones if any real progress is to be made toward the solution of their difficulties. During the year 28 girls have been boarded with their babies in the intervals of unemployment at a total average cost of $24.58 for each case. The total number of cases that have come under care in this group in 1918 has been 307. One hundred twenty-nine girls were at service with their babies at the close of the year.

The work of the field visitors has involved —

Visits to girls in homes	276
Visits of girls to office	226
Girls replaced	74
Visits with girls to hospitals	87

Girls absconded from supervision	6

The fact stands out in the foregoing data that the family and the relatives of these victims of tragedy are seldom interested enough in them to come forward with support. The girl must rely chiefly upon strangers in her illness and discouragement.

Under the head of mentality all girls who have worked and have successfully held their positions, showing good references both as to employment and character, have been rated as normal. The defectives, including the feeble-minded, have all been so classified after thorough psychopathic examination. The girl who is always changing and falling into difficulties is shown by our experience in almost all cases to be a defective delinquent.

In connection with the conclusion on mental defect the fact that 47 of the 50 mothers support themselves, and that 44 of them provide partial or full support for their babies as well, indicates that the mental defective, difficult though her case is admitted to be, is nevertheless capable, under friendly but careful personal service, of readjustment to environment without the necessity of custodial care in an institution. All of these 50 mothers, with one exception, have had their babies with them for at least one year, so that the process of their rehabilitation has had the great advantage of maternal affection thus developed.

Where a girl has supported herself and baby, and has shown a fair record of clean living, she has been rated as a successful case. Thirty-four of the group have done well, judged by this standard. Sixteen have found a more natural place in the community through marriage. Their husbands represent a good type of working man, who have without exception known all the circumstances before marriage, and have taken the child into their homes as their own. In only three of the instances was the adoptive father the actual parent.

Under pressure of the State and Nation wide campaign against venereal diseases, the group of diseased girls coming within the scope of the Board's social service work have received more attention than usual. During the year there were received at the State Infirmary 39 women with syphilis or gonorrhœa. Of these, 4 were under fifteen years of age; 4 were between fifteen and twenty; 26 were between twenty and thirty; and 5 were over thirty. Nineteen of these girls were returned after treatment to the courts from which they had been sent; 2 were sent back to social agencies; 3 to employment; and 10 to relatives. One died, 1 was discharged to a hospital outside the State and 3 absconded. Four adults and one child in the total were found to be suffering from both diseases.

There is a constant tendency for the work of the social service staff to extend beyond the scope of State Infirmary cases. The police, the Chardon Street Home, Boston, local relief authorities and many hospitals frequently refer their mother and baby problems to this office. In this way a work which has grown out of the necessity of the State Infirmary is in process of growth into a larger field of service.

THE STATE MINOR WARDS.

CHILDREN IN CARE AND CUSTODY OF THE BOARD.

By reference to the tables on page 134 et seq., it appears that at the beginning of the last official year, December 1, 1917, there were 6,272 children in the care and custody of the Board, — 300 delinquent children, 38 wayward children, 3,354 neglected children and 2,580 dependent children. There were 1,056 children received during the year, viz., 191 delinquent children, 3 wayward children, 452 neglected children and 410 dependent children. The total number under care during the year was, therefore, 7,328. There were 882 discharged, viz., 209 delinquent children, 5 wayward children, 332 neglected children and 336 dependent children. At the close of the year, November 30, 1918, there remained in charge of the Board, therefore, 6,446 children, classified as: delinquent children, 282; wayward children, 36; neglected children, 3,474; and dependents, 2,654.

Of the 6,446 children under care November 30, 1918, 5,999 were over three years of age and cared for as follows: in places receiving wages, 690; in places free of expense to the State for board, 657; in places partly supported by the State, 176; in places fully supported by the State, 3,533; at the State Infirmary and other institutions not penal, subject to care and treatment, 609; in United States service, 167; in Canadian service, 5; and whereabouts unknown, 166.

The 447 children in the total under care November 30, 1918, who were under three years of age, were classified as follows: in homes free of expense, 32; in homes fully supported by the State, 390; at the State Infirmary or other institutions, not penal, 25. One hundred sixty-six in this group reached the age of three years during the year.¹

CHILDREN UNDER THREE YEARS OF AGE.

The total number of infants in charge of the Board at the end of the official year, November 30, 1917, was 437; the number received during the year was 288, making the whole number supported 725. Nine were legally adopted; 166 were transferred, having reached the age of three years; 54 were discharged to parents or relatives, 5 to place of settlement, 7 to courts and 37 died. Thirty-two of the remaining 447 were in free homes.

Sixty of the 288 infants received were committed by the overseers of the poor and 3 by the superintendent of the State Infirmary, under the provisions of section 20, chapter 83 of the ¹ In addition to these 6,446 children the Board has under supervision and visitation November 30, 1918, 533 inmates of the Lyman School for Boys; 355 inmates of the State Industrial School for Girls; 256 inmates of the Industrial School for Boys; 2,551 boys and 357 girls in the custody of the Trustees for Massachusetts Training Schools outside of the schools; 147 boys and 112 girls, inmates of the Massachusetts Hospital School; 117 boys and 146 girls, inmates of the four State sanatoria; 38 boys and 98 girls, inmates of the State Infirmary, who are either young infants with their mothers, or else under hospital treatment; 421 inmates of the county training schools; and 1,345 children supported at the expense of the cities and towns, making, approximately, a total of 12,922 children in the care and custody and under the supervision of the Board.

Revised Laws. Eighteen were foundlings and 42 were indigent infants having no known settlement in the Commonwealth.

One hundred thirty-six infants were received under the provisions of section 36, chapter 83, 82 were committed as neglected under the provisions of chapter 334, as amended by chapter 131 of the Acts of the year 1909, and 2 under provisions of section 5, chapter 563 of the Acts of the year 1913.

The medical visitor and his assistants made 7,475 visits. This includes visits to infants boarded in families, investigation of homes of applicants for infants to board, and inspection of homes of applicants for licenses to board infants; also physical examination of children at the Board's offices and at the Nursery maintained by the Board.

All children are vaccinated when received if there are no marks showing a previous successful vaccination.

There were 456 children admitted to the Nursery.

The percentage of mortality for the year, for the whole number supported, was 5.10 +.

Two hundred twelve of the 725 infants supported were under one year of age. Twenty-four died, making the percentage of deaths for infants who during some part of the period were under one year of age 11.32 +.

Of the 24 deaths of infants under one year of age at the time of admission to care 7 died after reaching the age of one year, making the actual number of deaths of infants under one year 17, and the percentage 8.

The mortality rate was lower than last year, — 5.10 as against 6.98. The rate for infants under one year was also noticeably lower, — 8 as against 13.13. Twelve infants died at the State Infirmary. In the epidemic of influenza many of the children under three years were ill, and in some cases the entire families of the foster mothers were stricken with the disease, obliging us to remove the sick infants to a hospital. We had but two deaths of children under three years due to influenza.

Our nurses were frequently called to attend outside emergency cases, as there was a great scarcity of trained nurses.

There were 18 foundlings received during the year. In four cases the parentage was established.

CHILDREN OVER THREE YEARS OF AGE.

Children over three years of age in custody of this Board November 30, 1918, numbered 5,999, — 2,549 girls and 3,450 boys. This shows a net increase in population of 164, or 2.8 per cent, for the year.

Total admissions to this group amounted to 1,098, including 164 transferred from the subdivision of children under three years of age, and 934 new children received. Eighty-one girls and 146 boys, having attained their majority, passed out of custody during the year, and 543 were otherwise discharged.

One thousand two hundred sixty-five boys are over fourteen years of age; 247, or 19.5 per cent, attend school under conditions as follows: board and clothing are provided for 172; 22 are partly free of expense; 32 free; 14 receive wages; and 7 are on parole in own homes. One hundred seventy-eight of this number are at grammar school; 58 at high school; 3 at college; 2 at business college; and 6 at trade schools.

At the close of the year 183 boys were in the service of our country; during the war 4 were killed or died as the result of wounds received in action, and 26 reached their majority, making a total of 213 wards of this Commonwealth who volunteered in the United States service; 80 entered the navy, and 127 the army. In addition, 6 boys enlisted in the Canadian Army.

The distinguished service cross was conferred on two, one of whom made the supreme sacrifice at Chateau-Thierry. This young hero had been in our care since 1907. When he reached the age of eighteen years he made application for enlistment, and became a member of Co. K, 104th Infantry. While acting as a runner for his company he carried messages through heavy artillery fire with absolute fearlessness until he was killed.

The other boy who was the recipient of this honor is one of a family of five children who have been under our care since 1904. He enlisted in the service at the time our country entered the great war, and became a member of the 104th Regiment. The cross was conferred for extraordinary heroism in action east of Belleau, France. With one companion, under the leadership of an officer, a machine-gun nest was charged, two guns seized and 13 men killed or captured.

In the group of 786 girls over fourteen years of age, 347, or 41.6 per cent, are receiving education, — 166 at grammar school, 11 at junior high school, 143 at high school, 9 at trade school, 5 at business college, 4 at normal school. Six attend evening high school and three are receiving nurses' training in hospitals. These girls are placed as follows: 152 boarded in families, 143 partly free, 23 free, 7 earning wages and 22 on parole.

We have found the placing of children a greater problem than ever before, due to the scarcity of good family homes and the falling off in applications for children. The causes which have contributed to this condition are (1) the world war, which removed from many of our foster homes the men who were the main support, necessitating the entrance into industrial occupations of women who had formerly remained in the home; (2) the influenza epidemic, which broke out in September, continued through the following months, and caused the removal of many children from homes where the foster mother or some other member of the family had died; (3) the continued high cost of food and other household necessities, which has made it necessary for us to remove children from homes where foster parents could not provide suitable and necessary food.

An increase in the amount paid for board is necessary to meet these conditions. While the financial element is far from being the first consideration in securing suitable homes for our constantly expanding numbers, it is an important factor which must be dealt with justly.

We received 1,439 applications for children last year. Five hundred eighty-nine requested older boys and girls whose services were required for wages. Eight hundred fifty families applied for children twelve years of age or younger, and after investigation but 432 of this number were approved.

The care of the feeble-minded outside an institution still presents its serious difficulties. During the past year 39 children have been added to the list segregated in boarding homes, which has been our only resource the past few years, — 26 boys from five to fifteen years old, and 13 girls from nine to seventeen years of age. It was necessary to send to the State In-firmly as "unboardable" 9 boys and 10 girls, — 7 for medical treatment; 5 as incorrigible; 1 partially blind and helpless; and 6 as idiotic.

On November 30, 1917, 55 boys and 78 girls from five to twenty years of age were at board in special homes. As 75 per cent of the girls were over fifteen years of age the grave responsibility for their safe keeping in the community is obvious. Only 24 of 33 homes in use during the year are now available, — a distinct loss to the department because of the great difficulty in finding suitable women willing to assume the burden. Twenty-one girls and 30 boys have been in public schools for the whole or a part of the year. It was found necessary to remove several whose failure to progress made their continued attendance unwarranted.

During the year 10 more girls were given a trial at domestic work at small wages, and under careful visitation appear to be doing well and seem to justify the experiment of a year ago. Three girls on probation to relatives are engaged in industrial work, and are very happy to be earning their own living.

The State schools for the feeble-minded are still overcrowded, and but few of the many needy cases could be admitted this year, — a total of 13 boys and 17 girls. We are indebted for a few of that number to vacancies therein caused by death from influenza.

Unless relief by institutional care for the feeble-minded girl approaching her majority is soon forthcoming, she must perforce step back into her old environment to shift for herself, and our years of effort to protect her and the community will have been only partially successful.

INVESTIGATING DEPARTMENT.

The unusual demand for labor and the high wages paid show their influence on the statistics of the investigating department for the year. For the first time there has been a diminution of applications for aid, and the amount of money contributed by relatives through voluntary agreements has been nearly doubled.

Many gloomy prophecies were made regarding the increase of illegitimacy due to war conditions, but these have proved to be unfounded so far as this department is affected. There has been no perceptible increase in applications for illegitimate children. Although many of the mothers have reported alleged fathers to be in the service, the aggregate of cases is probably not greater than it would be in normal peace times. Less than 300 of the 1,432 applications received were for illegitimate children.

During the year the department received 304 dependent children under section 36, chapter 83 of the Revised Laws. Sixty-six, or 21.7 per cent, of this number were illegitimate. The following diagram shows the chief causes for the reception of these children:—

Illegitimate children received and causes for acceptance.

The large proportion of mentally deficient mothers in the cases of illegitimate children is significant. A well-defined policy has been established. Unless the mother is mentally or physically below grade the effort is to help her to meet her own problem rather than relieve her of it. But 37.2 per cent of the children received came for other reasons.

The following diagram shows the causes for acceptance of the 238 dependent children received who were legitimate: —

Legitimate children received and causes for acceptance.

When the mother is removed from the family circle by death or illness the problem becomes a difficult one. It is possible in only a few instances to make plans by which the family may be kept together. Thirty per cent of the legitimate children received were taken by reason of the death of the mother, and 21 per cent because of her illness. This proportion was greatly increased by the influenza epidemic of the last three months of the year.

Many of the cases have other contributing conditions than those assigned, but in every instance the reason was chosen which turned the decision. In cases where desertion of father is given as the primary cause there is added, many times, inefficiency or immorality of the mother such as to make mother's aid inadvisable, but not sufficiently pronounced to warrant neglect proceedings.

The department had committed to its care during the year, under section 20, chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, 101 children, 71 less than the preceding year; 18 of these were foundlings. Most cases of abandoned children and orphans with no one legally responsible for them are so committed by advice from the department. Four of the foundlings were identified and in two instances returned to relatives.

Following are the statistics for the year: —

SUPPORT.

The sum of $27,360.30 has been received from the overseers of the poor for support of settled children in our care.

In addition, $13,768 has been voluntarily contributed by parents and relatives. This is nearly twice the amount received from this source in the preceding year.

NON-SUPPORT PROCEEDINGS.

The sum of $13,343.17 was collected from the parents of children or from other sources through non-support proceedings in court or by agreements entered into to avoid court action. Forty-six original complaints of non-support were prosecuted in courts.

During the year ending November 30, 1918, 212 visits of inspection of lying-in hospitals were made by the inspector. Particular effort was made to see that the hospital authorities used some prophylactic in the eyes of new-born infants in accordance with Rule 8 of the Regulations for Lying-in Hospitals. Rule 8 is as follows: —

Each licensee shall be responsible for the use at every birth, for the prevention of ophthalmia neonatorum, of either the 1 per cent solution of nitrate of silver furnished to physicians by the State Department of Health, or some similar preparation having the approval of the said Department.

Three hundred sixty-six notices of the discharge from lying-in hospitals of infants who have had sore eyes were received during the year in accordance with Rule 9 of the regulations. These notices were received from 28 hospitals having a total number of births during the year of 9,513. According to these figures sore eyes developed in 3.45 of the births as compared with 5.49 in 1917, 4.67 in 1916 and 5.50 in 1915.

The following table shows in detail the reports received from lying-in hospitals in accordance with Rule 9 for the period of December 1, 1917, to November 30, 1918: —

Section 4 of chapter 44 of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 78 of the General Acts of 1915, provides that —

For the tuition in the public schools in any city or town of a child between the ages of five and fifteen years who shall be placed elsewhere than in his own home by the state board of charity . . . or kept under the control of . . . said board in said city or town, the commonwealth shall pay to said city or town . . . seventy-five cents for each week of five days, or major parts thereof, of attendance of every such child in the public schools. For the transportation to and from a public school of any child whose tuition is payable by the commonwealth . . . the commonwealth . . . shall pay to the city or town furnishing such transportation, for each week of five days or major part thereof, an amount equal to the average amount for each child paid by said city or town per week for the transportation of children to and from school over the route by which such child is conveyed.

REPORT

STATE BOARD OF CHARITY

PART II

CHARITABLE CORPORATIONS

The State Board of Charity endorses no private charitable organization or agency. This rule is absolute, regardless of the known standing of any such society. Inspection and the publication of the annual return in this volume do not mean approval; on the contrary, inspection may mean the discovery of conditions calling for condemnation. No agency is warranted, therefore, in using the fact of inspection in such manner as to lead the public to believe that the State Board has approved or in any sense recommends its work.

PRIVATE CHARITABLE CORPORATIONS.

Government supervision of private charitable corporations is provided in three legislative enactments, the first of which requires the State Board of Charity to investigate all petitions for charitable charters, while the second and third call for annual inspection and annual reporting. In the following pages of this part of the report the functions of the Board and the year's work under these several statutes are explained. This statement is followed by abstracts of the annual returns of the various charities in a form intended to serve as a handbook of all the incorporated charities of the Commonwealth.

Investigation of Charitable Organizations seeking Incorporation.

ACTS OF 1910, CHAPTER 181.

SECTION 1. Before making and issuing a certificate for the incorporation of a charitable corporation the secretary of the commonwealth shall also forward such statement as is described in the preceding section to the state board of charity, which shall immediately make an investigation as to the persons who have asked to be incorporated and as to the purposes of the incorporation, and any other material facts relative thereto, and shall give them a public hearing, notice of which shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in some paper published in the county in which the corporation is to have its principal office or rooms, and if said office or rooms are to be in Boston, in some Boston daily paper, the last publication to be at least three days before the day set for the hearing, and shall forthwith report to the secretary of the commonwealth all the facts ascertained by it. If it appears to the secretary of the commonwealth from said report or otherwise that the probable purpose of the formation of the proposed corporation is to cover any illegal business, or that the persons asking for incorporation are not suitable persons, from lack of financial ability or from any other cause, he shall refuse to issue his certificate. If he refuses to issue his certificate, the persons asking to be incorporated may appeal to the superior court, which shall hear the case and finally determine whether or not the certificate of incorporation shall be issued.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

During the year ending November 30, 1918, 51 applications for charters have been referred by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to this Board, which has investigated, given hearings and reported on the 39 applications noted below. In 1 case the petition was withdrawn by the Secretary of State before the hearing. Reports were made also in the case of 2 other petitions previously received and pending when the year began. Eleven cases were pending at the end of the year.

In 54 other cases the applications were withdrawn before investigation.

Inspection of Charitable Corporations.

Chapter 379 of the Acts of 1909 requires the State Board of Charity to make annual inspection of charitable corporations which consent to said inspection. The text of the act is as follows: —

ACTS OF 1909, CHAPTER 379.

SECTION 1. The state board of charity, upon the request or with the consent of a charitable corporation which, under the provisions of section fourteen of chapter eighty-four of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter four hundred and two of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and three, is required to make an annual report to said board, shall, at least once in every year, visit and inspect the institution or investigate the work of such corporation.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

One hundred eighty-two inspections have been made during the past year involving numerous conferences with directors and many visits to institutions.

There have been 126 inquiries in regard to particular agencies by persons not connected with them as officers or members, and 335 inquiries on general matters connected with the field of private charity.

Number and Classification of Incorporated Charities in Massachusetts.

There are at the present time more than 1,000 corporations chartered as charities under the laws of the Commonwealth. Of these, substantially three-fourths remain in active operation and make annual returns to this Board as required by law. The residue of active agencies that for various reasons fail to make the returns is negligible.

The number of reports published this year is smaller than that of last year, due to a change in the time of going to press. Formerly it has been the practice to include all reports received down to the time of sending copy to the printer. For this year and hereafter those reports only are to be printed which are received within the fiscal year covered by this volume.

The 671 active charitable corporations report the maintenance of a total of 691 institutions or agencies, of which 92 are homes for the aged; 67 maintain nurseries or children's homes, or place children out in family homes; 128 are hospitals or agencies rendering aid to the sick; 86 give material relief primarily. The large miscellaneous group of 352 societies includes for the most part those varied enterprises of a civic or eleemosynary nature that abound in a thickly populated industrial community like Massachusetts.

An analysis of the returns made in 1918 shows the total capital, real and personal, of all these charities to be $117,183,-985.49. Incumbrances on real estate came to but $2,213,250.31. The total receipts for the year were $21,910,372.14, of which $5,296,409.85 came from beneficiaries, and $3,465,464.40 from investments. The total outgo for all purposes for the year was $17,934,239.88. These agencies reported 11,815 paid employees. Instances of aid, though worthless as a total for statistical purposes, indicate that this group of charities during the year in question rendered some sort of charitable assistance to over 1,000,000 separate individuals.

Homes for the Aged.

One hundred six of the incorporated charities of Massachusetts are homes for the aged. So long as the decline of physical vigor creeps like a disease upon advancing years, so long will there be need of sympathetic help for the aged poor by those to whom life has brought greater fortune, or whose strength to serve remains still unimpaired. The aged do not present so tender an appeal as helpless childhood, nor is their succor attended by any hope of a return to self-support. Nevertheless, they have a forceful claim upon the sympathies of a public most of whom are struggling to fend off that same misfortune from themselves. The need is always great.

These homes are meeting it in the main, with earnest and efficient effort, seeking constantly to expand capacity in order to take in those who wait and who must otherwise remain uncared for.

Ten of the 106 corporations are not yet in active operation, the usual reason being the necessity of accumulating funds in order to build. Six of the group have failed to make report to this department, and are therefore not included in the following statistics. Sixty-six of the remaining 90 have reported certain detailed information that may be found of value in a brief description of the facilities and methods of institutional care for the aged in Massachusetts.

I. CAPACITY AND NUMBERS.

These 66 homes have a normal bed capacity of 2,422, i.e., an average of 36.7 beds for each home. On this average as a basis the entire 95 homes show a normal capacity of 3,303 beds, enough to care for a little less than 1 in every 1,000 of the population of the Commonwealth. Barring an accidental case here and there, each bed is occupied, and there are approximately 800 applicants waiting to be admitted. These waiting lists vary from a single applicant to 60. In connection with the numbers of aged persons cared for in these homes, it is of interest to note that in the corresponding year the several cities and towns of Massachusetts showed a census of 2,699 dependents over sixty years of age in their 170 almshouses at the close of 1918. In addition to these there were 5,808 persons sixty years of age or over who were aided in some manner by the cities and towns during the year. The State government gave institutional care to 1,768 in this age group, and reimbursed cities and towns for relief given to 1,062 others. The exact number of aged persons under public care at the time the census of the private homes was taken cannot be ascertained, but it is possible from the above figures to estimate the number of persons sixty years of age or over who are under public care at about double the number in our private homes for the aged. The total number of aged persons in the State at the present time receiving aid either from public funds or private sources approximates 10,000.

II. Cost.

The total expense of caring for the inmates of the private homes was $1,128,108.09. Taking the average daily population as the full bed capacity, the weekly per capita cost would be $6.57. The sum of $234,146.11 was received from or on account of inmates in the 90 homes, mostly in entrance fees. The total capital, real and personal, held by the group was $13,392,426.14, of which $9,599,072.77 was personalty, mostly investments, which yielded $483,921.05 last year. The trusts, therefore, paid approximately five-sevenths and the patients two-sevenths of the cost of maintenance. As entrance fees in the past have undoubtedly gone to swell present investments, this comparison is not to be taken as an absolute estimate of the degree of dependency. It is also to be remembered that the entrance fee is made up in many cases from private donations.

III. THE WAITING LIST.

The 800 persons waiting to enter the homes for the aged have no recourse but to bide their time. If all other means fail, and funds are used up while waiting, their disposition is the public almshouse. In the private home there is the feeling that the inmate is there according to a contract, his part of which has been performed. It is far from the realization of utter dependency. It permits the continuance of that pride of personal independence without which the lot of the aged poor becomes doubly sad. It is not surprising, therefore, that where the individual has some means remaining, or where relatives or friends are able to make up the fee, there is rivalry to secure the vacant places in these homes. Some boards of directors seek to extend aid to persons outside the home when all the beds are taken. In the main, however, activities do not extend beyond the home itself, and the officials do not make special effort to acquaint themselves with the condition of the aged poor in the field surrounding, but outside, their institution.

IV. TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Admission fees vary all the way from $50 to $800. The terms of testamentary trusts often restrict directors so narrowly as to govern also the amount of the admission fee. Ten homes admit without charge. Three in the group are boarding homes where a charge is made by the week. About 1 in every 14 of the present occupants of the homes has paid more than the regular entrance fee.

Nine of the 66 homes that reported required no physical examination before admittance. Over half of those requiring such an examination employed the home doctor as a regular practice. All required, however, that the candidate should show a fair condition of mind and body. The reason for this bar is obvious. A home for the aged which attempts to care for chronic invalids is confronted at once with a difficult hospital problem. The average age limitation is that the candidate must be sixty years or over. Thirteen out of 66 imposed no residence limitations. The usual form of such restrictions is a requirement that the candidate must have been a resident for five years or for ten years, as the case may be, of the town in which the home is situated. It is usually fixed by the terms of the principal or original testamentary trust. Thirty-eight out of the 66 imposed no limitation regarding religious belief, and 42 had no requirement as to nationality.

V. ACTIVITIES OF INMATES.

The reports show that a considerable number of the inmates are expected to look after their rooms and help generally about the house when able. This wholesome activity should be accorded the more able in body. The mere chore of keeping a single window box watered is, so far as it goes, an interest in life. It affords something to look forward to.

VI. CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER AGENCIES.

The reports of consultation and joint study with other agencies are not encouraging. For the most part, the home for the aged has no special knowledge of the extent of the "old-age" problem in the community in which it is located. It learns of individual cases of need for institutional care through applications only. Very few home officials know the extent of public aid to aged persons in the locality. In the development of the home, therefore, the management tends to yield to the point of greatest pressure. It is likely, under such a policy, to meet a long waiting list with an increase of admission fees rather than by an extension of facilities; or to accept those inmates who can offer most as an inducement. Such a narrow policy is likely to result from failure to keep in close relationship with other local civic and social interests. Inspection by this department reveals a creditable standard of housekeeping and general care, with surprisingly few complaints either of dietary or of failure to render proper medical or physical attention.

Annual Reports of Charitable Corporations.

The law provides that the Board shall receive annual reports of all charitable corporations whose personal property is exempt from taxation, and for the dissolution of corporations which fail for two consecutive years to report to this Board. The text of the law is as follows (Revised Laws, chapter 84, section 14, amended by Acts of 1903, chapter 402, amended by Acts of 1913, chapter 82): —

SECTION 1. A charitable corporation whose personal property is exempt from taxation under the provisions of clause three of section five of chapter twelve shall annually, on or before the first day of November, make to the state board of charity a written or printed report for its last financial year, showing its property, its receipts and expenditures, the whole number and the average number of its beneficiaries and such other information as the board may require. If any corporation subject to the provisions of this act shall fail for two successive years to file the said report, the supreme judicial court, upon application by the state board of charity, after notice and a hearing may decree a dissolution of the corporation.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon the first day of November in the year nineteen hundred and thirteen.

REPORT
OF THE
STATE BOARD OF CHARITY

PART III

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES
AND
STATISTICS OF POOR RELIEF

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES.

Laws relating to Almshouses.

For the information of overseers of the poor, masters of almshouses and others concerned, certain laws relating to almshouses are here summarized.

The State Board of Charity is required to visit annually all city and town almshouses, and to include in its Annual Report a statement of their condition and management, with its suggestions and recommendations relative thereto. (Revised Laws, chap. 84, sect. 5.)

The master of every almshouse must keep a register, in a form prescribed by the State Board of Charity, of the names of the persons received or committed, the cities or towns to which they belong, and the dates of their reception and discharge. (Revised Laws, chap. 30, sect. 17.)

Every inmate of an almshouse able to work shall be kept diligently employed in labor. If he is idle and does not perform such reasonable task as is assigned, or if he is stubborn and disorderly, he shall be punished according to the orders and regulations established by the directors. (Revised Laws, chap. 30, sect. 21. See also opinion of Attorney-General, given to State Board of Charity, November 21, 1904.)

The only children who can be lawfully supported in a city or town almshouse for a period of more than two months are: (1) those who are so defective in body or mind as to make their retention in an almshouse desirable; (2) those who are under two years of age; (3) those who are under three years of age, with mothers who are almshouse inmates and suitable persons to aid in taking care of them. In cases of failure of overseers of the poor to remove children illegally in almshouses, the State Board of Charity is required to remove them and provide for them otherwise, at the expense of the city or town concerned. (Revised Laws, chap. 81, sect. 6; Acts of 1905, chap. 303; also Acts of 1913, chap. 112.)

Provision is made that tramps and vagrants, as well as criminals, shall be confined in separate and distinct quarters in all almshouses, and shall not be permitted to associate or communicate with pauper inmates. (Acts of 1905, chap. 348.) Almshouse officials knowingly violating this law are liable to be punished by a fine of not more than $300, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Acts of 1904, chap. 274.) It should also be noted that tramps and vagrants, if physically able, shall perform labor of some kind, and shall be lodged under conditions prescribed by the State Board of Health. (Acts of 1905, chap. 344.)

The State Board of Charity is authorized to advise with and assist overseers of the poor in preparation of plans for almshouse buildings. (Acts of 1905, chap. 162.)

Inspection of Almshouses.

During the official year every almshouse has been visited once, 46 have been visited twice, 14 three times and 3 four times. The inspector has conferred with overseers of the poor or their representatives of 55 cities and towns in regard to almshouse conditions, or on other matters pertaining to the business of the Board. Individual members of the Board have made visits from time to time.

Almshouses closed.

The almshouse at Shrewsbury has been closed and the inmates provided for on the Home Farm in Worcester.

The almshouse in Sherborn has been closed, the last inmate having passed away during the year.

The almshouse at Weymouth was burned, the inmates being provided for at the Braintree almshouse.

The almshouse at Conway, closed last year, has been reopened.

Management.

In 156 almshouses the management is in the hands of a warden and matron, and in 7, of a matron only. The combined salaries of these officials average about $1,100 per annum for the cities, and about $500 for the towns, in addition to their board and lodging, the total amount of all salaries being $106,883. In a number of cases the warden performs other services for the town without extra compensation. The greatest length of service in any one place is that of Lexington, where the warden and matron have served thirty-four years; at Haverhill the warden and matron have served thirty-one years; at Springfield the warden has served thirty years; at Beverly the warden has served twenty-three years; at Harwich the warden and matron have served twenty-two years; at Richmond the matron has served twenty and one-half years; at Bedford the warden and matron have served nineteen years; at Canton the warden has served nineteen years and the matron sixteen years; at Somerville the warden and matron have served seventeen and one-half years; at Swansea the warden and matron have served seventeen and one-half years; at Maynard the warden and matron have served sixteen years; and at North Attleborough the warden has served sixteen years.

About three quarters of the cities and towns employ a total of 416 assistants, who are generally paid by the city or town, but in a few instances by the warden.

Thirty-four cities and towns are reported as employing a total of 177 nurses in almshouses, as follows: Beverly, 1; Boston, 65; Cambridge, 4; Chicopee, 2; Fall River, 12; Fitchburg, 2; Franklin, 1; Gloucester, 2; Greenfield, 1; Haverhill, 6; Holyoke, 5; Lawrence, 14; Lancaster, 1; Lee, 1; Lexington, 1; Lowell, 8; Lynn, 2; Malden, 3; Middleborough, 1; North Adams, 1; North Attleborough, 1; Northampton, 1; Pepperell, 1; Pittsfield, 1; Plymouth, 1; Salem, 4; Somerville, 2; Springfield, 10; Taunton, 2; Westfield, 1; Winchendon, 1; Worcester, 10. It appears to the Board a matter of no little importance, especially in almshouses where the matron is the working housekeeper, that in every case of serious illness, where hospital care is not available, the service of a nurse should be procured.

Twelve cities and towns are co-operating with the local district nursing associations, and as a result the district nurse is called to the almshouse in these places whenever needed.

The Board urges the extension of this practice where district-nursing associations are established, and where regular nurses cannot be permanently employed in the almshouses.

Construction.

In 103 almshouses one or more sitting-rooms are provided for the use of the inmates; 6 use corridors for sitting-rooms; and 48 use dining-rooms. In 109 almshouses one or more smoking-rooms are provided for the use of the inmates. Twenty-two almshouses are provided with an assembly room or chapel. There are 2,805 sleeping-rooms, 25 wards and 120 dormitories, with 6,487 beds.

One hundred thirty-nine almshouses have improved plumbing.

In 1 almshouse the heating is by hot air; in 15, by hot water; in 101, by steam; in 24, by stoves; in 9, by hot air and stoves; in 4, by hot air and steam; in 3, by hot water and stoves; in 1, by hot water and steam; and in 7, by steam and stoves.

Oil furnishes light for 55 almshouses, gas for 1, electricity for 95, gas and electricity for 4, gas and oil for 2, and oil and electricity for 2.

Fire escapes appear to be provided in all cases where they are a matter of importance. In questionable cases the Board has called the matter to the attention of the District Police.

In 97 almshouses special hospital accommodations are provided, either by setting apart one or more rooms, or, in a few instances, by separate buildings.

The total valuation is $5,406,093.55. The cost of repairs and improvements for the year amounts to $108,205.36, of which $48,847.45 was spent on new construction at Long Island, Boston. These figures are based on returns made by the overseers of the poor.

Inmates.

The number of inmates of all the almshouses at the time of visitation was 3,985, viz., 2,199 men, 1,640 women, 76 boys and 70 girls; the largest number in any one almshouse being 1,054 in Boston, and the smallest, 1. Among the other almshouses with large populations may be mentioned Lowell, with 451; Fall River, with 284; Cambridge, with 181; New Bedford, with 221; Lawrence, with 176; Worcester, with 176; Holyoke, with 123; and Springfield, with 146.

The ages of the inmates of all the almshouses were as follows: forty-one under 2; twenty-seven between 2 and 5; thirty-seven between 5 and 15; eleven between 15 and 21; sixty-four between 21 and 30; one hundred twenty-nine between 30 and 40; three hundred twenty-four between 40 and 50; six hundred fifty-eight between 50 and 60; one thousand one hundred eighty-two between 60 and 70; one thousand fifty-nine between 70 and 80; four hundred sixteen between 80 and 90; thirty-nine between 90 and 100; and three over 100; or, under a different grouping, one hundred sixteen were under 21 years of age; one hundred ninety-three between 21 and 40; nine hundred eighty-two between 40 and 60; and two thousand six hundred ninety-nine, 60 and over.

In 61 of the almshouses there was a complete separation of the sexes; in 28 the sexes were separated at night only; in 52 they were separated except at meals; in 20 there was no separation.

Board was paid by friends, or by themselves, for a total of 138 inmates.

There were 74 able-bodied inmates under sixty years of age at the time of visitation.

There were 10 soldiers and 7 soldiers' widows.

Consumptives.

There were 69 consumptive cases found in 5 almshouses, viz., Boston, 64; Lowell, 2; Marlborough, 1; Provincetown, 1; and Westfield, 1. It was reported that all these patients were separated from the rest of the inmates and received special treatment and diet.

The Board has always urged segregation, special treatment and diet in all cases of consumption. In cases where these conditions cannot be complied with, the attention of the overseers of the poor or boards of health has been called to the necessity of better care, and a recommendation made that the patient be provided for under the board of health outside of the almshouse.

Defectives.

In 128 almshouses there was a total of 1,196 defective inmates, of whom 414 were reported as mentally defective; 46 epileptic; 599 cripples; 111 blind; 4 mentally defective and cripples; 2 cripples and blind; 7 deaf and dumb; 5 mentally defective and blind; 2 mentally defective and epileptic; 1 epileptic, crippled and mentally defective; 1 mentally defective and dwarfed; 1 cripple who is also a dwarf; 2 deaf, dumb and blind; and 1 dumb and mentally defective. As has been the custom in the past, the presence of persons believed to be suffering from serious mental derangement has been brought to the attention of the Massachusetts Commission on Mental Diseases, but so congested are the schools for the feeble-minded that in several instances cities and towns have had to retain in their almshouses cases which evidently should have been cared for under the supervision of the Commission on Mental Diseases. While it is conceded that supervision to a limited extent can be given to these cases in almshouses, the Board realizes that it is not the proper place for many of them.

Vagrants.

During the past year a total of 18 tramps was reported in 5 almshouses as being both lodged and fed. In all of these they were wholly separated from the other inmates as the law requires. The almshouses having tramps were: Braintree, 2; Carlisle, 1; Sturbridge, 2; Wareham, 6; Westford, 7. In a few other instances vagrants were fed but not lodged.

ACTS OF 1905. CHAPTER 344.AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE LODGING OF TRAMPS AND VAGRANTS BY CITIES AND TOWNS.

Cities and towns which provide lodging for tramps and vagrants shall require them, if physically able, to perform labor of some kind in return for the lodging and food furnished to them; and the places in which such persons are lodged shall be kept in such order and condition as may be prescribed by the state board of health. [Approved April 26, 1905.]

Libraries of Books.

The following towns provide libraries of books for the inmates: Beverly, Boston, Brookfield, Brookline, Cambridge, Carlisle, Fairhaven, Framingham, Gardner, Groton, Lowell, Malden, Manchester, Marblehead, Marlborough, Melrose, Montague, New Bedford, Newburyport, Newton, North Andover, North Reading, Somerville, Spencer, Springfield, Waltham, West Brookfield, Westfield, Woburn and Worcester; and in many instances newspaper and magazines are regularly supplied.

Farms and Farm Products.

In connection with the 163 almshouses is a total of about 15,000 acres. Of these, during the past year, 1,860 were ploughed and 3,291 were tilled. Among the towns having the largest acreage are Gardner, with 400 acres, Worcester with 376, Ipswich with 365, North Adams with 300, and Brookfield with 297. Worcester tills 150 acres and Boston 100. The chief products are milk and vegetables. Some of the other products are hay, apples, cream, pork, butter, poultry, strawberries, small fruits and plants for market.

Fire Protection.

For the safety of the inmates and the preservation of municipal property it seems absolutely necessary that every almshouse should be provided with some form of fire protection. The Board is gratified to note the co-operation of the boards of overseers in this matter.

Recommendations made.

In addition to minor suggestions — which deal particularly with the care of individual cases — made by the Board's inspector during his visits to the various almshouses, the following suggestions and recommendations have been made by the Board in its communications to various boards of overseers: Ayer, inquiry as to a supposed case of tuberculosis; Brookfield, that the heating plant be repaired; Braintree, better accommodations for the Weymouth inmates; Bridgewater, need of removal of an unsafe fire escape; Billerica, need of new floors

Winchendon.

On July 30, 1918, the buildings at the Winchendon almshouse were destroyed by fire caused by lightning. All inmates were taken from the building in safety. At a special town meeting held August 24 the town voted to purchase a large house, which occupied one of the most sightly locations in the town. This house with slight remodeling — the installation of an additional bath-room, the building of a partition and a fire escape — has been converted into one of the best almshouses of its size in the State. The entire cost, together with the purchase of an additional section of good land, repairs, etc., was less than the amount received from insurance.

General Conditions.

This year has closed leaving as almshouse inmates only those who, because of age, infirmities or peculiarities, can rightfully be considered inmates. Wages have been high and employment for everybody plentiful, so that the able-bodied inmate has gone to work. Many of the almshouses have been seriously handicapped in the matter both of inmate help and paid assistance. Not only has this had its effect on the running of the almshouse farm, but it has taxed the strength of many of the matrons, who, unable to procure assistance, and having as inmates only the aged and sick, have found their labors increased even in the face of decreasing numbers.

STATISTICS OF POOR RELIEF.

STATISTICS OF POOR RELIEF.

NUMBERS RELIEVED.

The following information covers public relief, whether rendered in institutions or outside, and aid rendered by all public agencies, whether State or local.

The tables given below are arranged to show numbers relieved and their analysis by age, sex and nativity. The tabulations are concluded by figures for cost of all relief.

Table I. shows the number supported or relieved by the several cities and towns during the year beginning April 1, 1917, and ending March 31, 1918. All persons are included, regardless of settlement. The total number receiving aid in any form, exclusive of vagrants and wayfarers, was 83,562. Of this number, 10,626 were aided in institutions, and 72,936 — the remainder — outside, either in private families or in their own homes. Of the persons aided in institutions, 7,451 were relieved in the various city and town almshouses, leaving 3,175 who were cared for in other institutions. Of the outside aid, 1,596 cases were aided in private families other than their own, while 71,340 were reported as having been aided in their own homes. This last figure thus comprises practically all city and town aid usually known as local public outdoor relief, including that under chapter 763, Acts of 1913.

There is a decrease of 25 per cent from the preceding year in the number aided in institutions, and of 6.6 per cent in the number aided outside.

Table II. supplies the same data for persons aided or relieved by the State as is shown in Table I. for local relief. In addition to aid rendered directly by the State, this table includes also all those cases included in Table I., in which the relief has been rendered by cities and towns in the first instance and reimbursed by the State as required by law. This table shows 26,641 persons aided by the State. Of this number, the aid in 20,621 cases was first rendered by the several cities and towns. The remaining 6,020 cases were aided by the State: 4,301 of them at the State Infirmary; 971 in the almshouse wards at the State Farm; 89 at the Massachusetts Hospital School; and 659 at the State sanatoria for tubercular patients.

Table III. affords a rapid glance at the movement of population in the dependent group during the year under analysis. Thus it appears that 48,174 cases represented approximately the total number of persons receiving aid April 1, 1917. About 80 per cent of these were receiving relief locally. During the year 41,408 new cases were admitted to relief, 40.6 per cent of which were aided either directly or through reimbursement by the State. The persons who passed out of care during that same period numbered 41,454, viz., city and town cases, 25,606; State cases, 15,848. Those in this total released by death numbered 2,537, and 2,217 were persons transferred. At the close of the year, therefore, the cities and towns had 37,335 persons in receipt of relief, and the State had 10,793, making a total of 48,128.

Table IV. begins classification of the whole number of persons aided, and shows the analysis by color, nativity and sex. Of the 89,582 persons so aided, 42,520 were males and 47,062 were females. The colored races furnished only 1.7 per cent, or 1,542, of the whole number. The native-born whites — 60,482 — still number more than double the foreign born of the white races, the 26,781 of this latter group representing a proportionate decrease of 11.9 per cent from last year. The females of the total native born outnumber the males by 5 per cent, while of the total foreign born, the females outnumber the males by 26 per cent.

Table V. gives a further interesting analysis of the native-born persons aided during the year classified by parent nativity.

The parents of 19,423 were both native; 29,478 were children of foreign-born parents; 11,201 were of parents one of whom was foreign born or unknown; while the nativity of parents in 1,708 cases remained unascertained. It appears from this table, therefore, that of the 89,582 persons receiving aid in Massachusetts in the year ending March 31, 1918, there were at least 56,450 who were either foreign born or were of the first generation in our citizenship.

By Table VI. it appears that of the 89,582 cases aided, 8,673 were under five; 37,946 were under fifteen; 45,534, or 50.8 per cent, including the above, were under twenty; 31,515, or 35.1 per cent, were between twenty and sixty; and 11,337, or 12.6 per cent, were over that age. The ages of 1,196 were unknown.

Among the poor persons relieved are always a considerable number of mental defectives who for one reason or another have not been committed and are therefore not cared for in the special institutions, such as the asylums for the insane, maintained for that purpose. In regard to this class it is to be noted further that, since no court has passed upon their mental condition, their classification here is made only because, in the opinion of the respective authorities making the returns, there is no doubt of their defect. Table VII. affords a rough classification into three groups, according to the nature of the defect, and a division by sex. The total number thus cared for was 445, namely, 237 males and 208 females. Three hundred fifty-three of these cases were relieved by the cities and towns; the remaining 92 of the number, having no settlement, were aided at the expense of the State. One hundred ninety-nine of the whole number were classed as "insane", mostly the senile and mildly insane to be found in the almshouses. This total includes 113 males and 86 females. One hundred eighty-nine were called "idiotic", namely, 90 males and 99 females. The "epileptics" totaled 57, of whom 34 were males and 23 were females.

Table VIII. calls attention more pointedly to the sex and the nature of discharge from relief of those persons who passed out of aid during the year. Of the 41,454 cases so dismissed, 21,900 were males and 19,554 were females. Forty and eight-tenths per cent, or 16,932, were released to the care of relatives or friends. In this group the females preponderated slightly. About 5.3 per cent, or 2,217, of the whole number were transferred to other institutions, while 6.1 per cent, 47.6 per cent of the aggregate, were discharged without relatives or friends or other authorities agreeing to look after them. The great majority in this last group were persons assisted through illness, after which they became self-supporting again.

As appears from Table IX. the foreign born who were receiving public relief during the year numbered 26,972, or 30.1 per cent of the entire number of persons aided. This percentage is less than the proportion of foreign born in the population generally (31.4 per cent) by 1.3 per cent. Canada furnished 5,985 of this number; England and Wales, 1,913; Germany, 336; Ireland, 7,778; Italy, 2,597; Russia and Poland, 2,776; Scandinavia, 567; and Scotland, 566; all other countries, 4,454.

Table X. shows the percentage of the various classes aided to the whole number relieved. Thus of the 89,582 persons relieved, 70.26 per cent were settled cases, receiving their assistance out of local taxes; 29.74 per cent were unsettled, and, though relieved by the respective cities and towns in the first instance in a majority of cases, were ultimately aided out of the State tax. As to the place in which relief was given, 18.58 per cent of the total were aided in institutions, namely, 8.32 per cent in almshouses; 6.72 per cent in State institutions; and a small residue of 3.54 per cent in other institutions, mostly under private management. Outdoor relief, designated as aid "outside," was given in 81.42 per cent of all the cases. Most of these, namely, 79.64 per cent, were relieved in their own homes. Aid was given in private families other than the recipient's own — mostly boarded cases — in 1.78 per cent.

Percentages of age show that 51.88 per cent were minors, 34.13 per cent were between the ages of twenty-one and sixty, and 12.66 per cent were sixty or over. The ages of 1.33 per cent were unknown.

Sexes were almost even, females rating 52.53 per cent.

The number of colored persons was very small, totaling only 1.72 per cent.

By reason of thoroughgoing classification in the care of defectives, the percentage of those mentally deficient persons still cared for as poor-relief cases is exceedingly small, and tends always to decrease. The mental condition of all the cases aided shows, on analysis, that 99.50 per cent were sane, .22 per cent were insane, .21 per cent were idiotic and .07 per cent were epileptic. The proportion of sane persons in last year's returns was 99.44 per cent.

It is further of interest to view at a glance the numerical relationship to the whole population of the persons relieved at public expense as appears in Table XI., which exhibits the number of each class in every thousand of the population of the State on a basis of the census of 1915. Thus it is shown that in each thousand of the population there were 24.25 indigent persons relieved at public expense. Eleven and fifty-one hundredths of these were males and 12.74 were females. The native born numbered 16.73 in the thousand; foreign born, 7.30; native born of foreign parentage, 7.98; and those of unknown nativity, .22. The proportion of vagrants reported was 3 in the thousand.

COST OF POOR RELIEF.

The funds laid out by the several cities and towns for all poor relief within their respective fiscal years are shown in Table XII. The aggregate is classified as "ordinary" or maintenance, and "extraordinary" or special. Together with the ordinary outlays are shown the receipts on account of maintenance, and the difference, set out under "net ordinary expenditures." The ordinary outlay is classified as expenses in institutions and outside. This subdivision follows the classifications in Table I. regarding the nature and the place of aid. The grand totals in Table XII. show that an aggregate of $5,168,294.14 was laid out by the several cities and towns. Of this sum, $5,056,843.04 was ordinary outlay, or maintenance; the remainder, or $111,451.10, was expended for sundry improvements, all of it at the city and town almshouses except $40. Of the money laid out for maintenance, $1,601,085.69 was expended for almshouse care and $360,620.90 for relief in other institutions. Care in private families took $263,738.25, and relief in the recipients' own homes, i.e., outdoor poor relief, totaled $2,505,258.26. The cost of administration, including salary and office expenses of the overseers, but exclusive of institution administration, came to $326,139.94. The total receipts on account of ordinary expenditures were $1,322,210.05, classified as receipts on account of institutions, $472,956.78, and all other, $849,253.27. This latter portion of the receipts is made up mostly of reimbursements by cities and towns ultimately liable, and from the State treasury in unsettled cases. Subtracting receipts leaves $3,734,632.99 as the net ordinary outlay.

In Table XIII. the analysis shown for cities and towns by Table XII. is carried out for cases aided out of State funds. Of the $1,445,192.28 expended for this purpose, $1,430,434.19 was on account of ordinary expenditures, laid out as follows: at the State Infirmary, $359,761.72; at the State Farm, $86,615.15; at the four State sanatoria, $173,510.99; at the Hospital School, $16,359.52; and all other expenditures, outside of institutions, $794,186.81. Extraordinary expenditures totaled $14,758.09, — all expended for special improvements at the several institutions just enumerated. Inasmuch as it is impossible to trace institution expenditures to the separate individuals receiving the aid, the figures set out under the State tables of cost are arrived at by taking from total expenditures that proportion which the number relieved bears to the total inmate population of the institution.

In Table XIV. State and local outlays are added, showing that, of the $5,291,276.37 expended for public poor relief, $5,165,067.18 was for ordinary outlays, of which $2,124,997.19 went for institutional relief and $3,040,069.99 was for relief outside. The total of extraordinary expenditures was $126,209.19.
